CUBA FIXES STAND

Thant, Fidel Don't Agree

... CHIEFS TO MEET AGAIN

Havana (P)—U Thant and Prime Minister Fidel Castro met Tuesday for the first time on the U.S.-Soviet-Cuban crisis, and an informed source said the meeting produced no immediate agreement.

A communique issued after the two-hour, 10-minute meeting said "Cuba fixed her position and viewpoints with clarity." Informants said this meant that Castro was unyielding in demands for guarantees against what he called U.S. aggression before he would permit U.N. observers to verify Soviet promises to dismantle Russian missiles in Cuba.

One of the guarantees Castro demanded last weekend was for the United States to abandon its Guantanamo Naval Base in southeastern Cuba. Washington has already rejected this.

Thant, the U.N. acting secretary-general, will have at least one more chance at persuading Castro to accept U.N. observers in Cuba. The communique said he and Castro would meet again Wednesday at 10 a.m. Thant is expected to return to New York late Wednesday.

Seeks Settlement

Thant flew to Havana, at Castro's invitation, to try to arrange U.N. verification of progress on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's pledge to dismantle Russian rocket bases and to seek a general settlement of the Cuban crisis.

A Thant spokesman had described his encounter with Castro as "very useful." But informants asserted that Castro stuck to weekend demands which Washington has considered unacceptable.

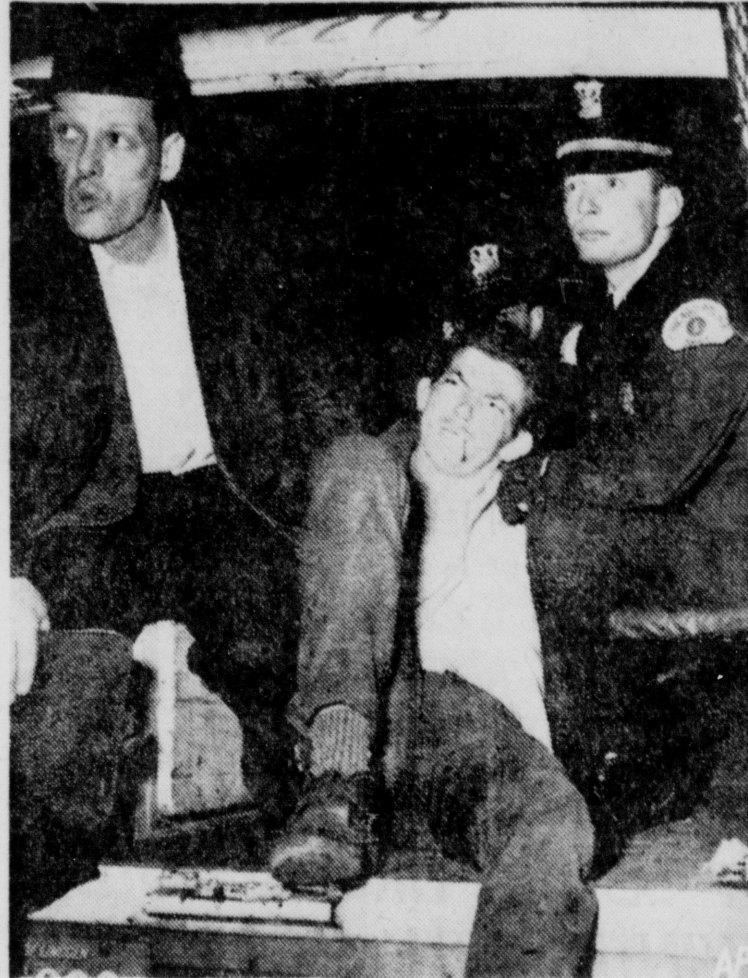

Castro also listed other demands Sunday as conditions that must be met as "guarantees against an aggression on Cuba." He said President Kennedy's non-aggression guarantees would be meaningless unless the United States also lifts its blockade, stops alleged violations of Cuban air and water space and brings an end to hit-and-run raids on Cuba's shipping and coastline.

Stop Buildup

He said the United States must stop its arms buildup in areas close to Cuba and halt what he called invasion preparations in U.S. territory in nearby countries.

Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos took part in the meeting with Thant.

Castro's reported stand put him at odds with the announced position of Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Khrushchev said Sunday that he had given orders for work on the missile sites to halt and the missiles to be dismantled and shipped back to

Priest Wounds Rectory Robber

... AFTER WOMAN SLAIN

Chicago (P)—A liquor-crazed knife-wielding burglar invaded a church rectory Tuesday, fatally stabbed the housekeeper, wounded her sister and was shot by the pastor.

The hero of the early morning drama in the rectory of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church a few blocks west of downtown Chicago was the Rev. Stephen O'Donnell, a World War II chaplain.

Police said the robber, Larry Vernon, 22, fatally stabbed Miss Bridget Walsh, 45, the housekeeper, when she awoke and found him prowling around the sisters' room on the first floor of the rectory. Her sister, Margaret, 36, the rectory cook, also was stabbed several times but escaped to an upper floor.

Indians Launch Attack

—HEAVY FIRE—

New Delhi (UPI) — Indian troops, backed by artillery and heavy mortar fire, launched a counteroffensive against invading Chinese Red forces on the northeast frontier Tuesday for the first time since the Chinese surged over the border nearly two weeks ago.

A defense ministry spokesman said Indian troops counter-attacked at two points in the Northeast Frontier Agency in the limited offensive action that followed days of Indian withdrawals and heavy casualties.

Announcement of the offensive followed a special order of the day in which the Indian Army Chief of Staff Gen. P. N. Thapar, told his embattled troops that "the enemy is being held on all fronts."

After Pledge

It came only a day after the United States answered an Indian appeal with a pledge to rush arms and ammunition to bolster this nation's defenses.

A defense ministry spokesman said Tuesday the Indian counterattacks were launched in the vicinity of Jang, about 5 miles east of the Red-captured monastery town of Towang, and in the far eastern Lohit sector, near the Burmese border.

In the Lohit sector, he said, "our troops engaged the Chinese position with heavy mortar fire."

First Mention

It was the first mention of Indian forces using heavy mortars during the undeclared border war. Military sources said this was the first time India has been able to match the fire power of the Chinese Communists. These sources said Chinese heavy mortars had been instrumental in the communist drive.

An order of the day by Gen. Thapar admitted that previous Indian withdrawals had been caused by the superior firepower of the Chinese Reds.

In the Jang area to the west near Bhutan, Indian troops probed forward "and engaged the Chinese position with artillery fire," the Indian spokesman said.

Reports from the area told of heavy snowfall in the region of Towang and Jang. The spokesman also announced that in the Siang area in the central part of the northeast frontier, Indian troops withdrew from one forward outpost after repelling two previous Red attacks.

Morrison, Other Demos Nix Names In Party Ads

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison and at least 4 other Democratic nominees for state and national office have asked State Chairman Russell Hanson not to use their names in the party's forthcoming cooperative advertising campaign. The Star learned Tuesday.

Questioned by telephone, Hanson confirmed the action, but said a final decision on the matter will be rendered by the state executive committee.

Among others who requested that their names not be included in the advertising, Hanson said, were candidates Clair Callan, First District, Congress; Rudolph Andersen, lieutenant governor; Leonard Foster, secretary of state, and Richard Larsen, state treasurer.

Third District congressional nominee John Hoffman also voiced "some objections," the chairman noted.

'Prior Clearance'

Morrison wired Hanson that "I do not authorize the use of my name" in the party's advertising campaign lacking "prior written clearance from me."

Queried by The Star, Norman Otto—administrative assistant to the governor—said Morrison and the other candidates "felt they should have been consulted on the use of the funds available to the Democratic Party."

They further believed "that distribution of the funds to the candidates would be more beneficial to the candidates to use as they saw fit in their own districts or areas," Otto said.

Hanson said he is asking members of the executive committee to determine whether the requests should be granted and whether the $5,000 program should be carried out.

It was the executive committee which had earlier decided to spend the $5,000 in a cooperative advertising venture, rather than allocate funds to individual candidates, Hanson pointed out.

TV, Radio, Ads

Arrangements have already been made, he said, to promote Democratic nominees in television and radio spot announcements throughout the state and in newspaper advertisements in Lincoln and Omaha.

Key theme of the campaign message, Hanson noted, would be to "vote Democratic."

One newspaper ad would picture President Kennedy and suggest that "Nebraskans can strengthen the President's right arm by voting Democratic," Hanson said.

In other campaign developments, two Republican party officials took potshots at the governor.

Lancaster County GOP chairman Roland Luedtke told the county GOP businessmen's club that the principal issue in the gubernatorial campaign is that of "strong leadership versus weak-kneed followership."

"Fruits Of Life" Nebraskans, he said, "have had enough of indecision in government. Now they want a governor who will really put us in the race with other states for the fruits of the life in the 1960s."

GOP State Chairman Robert Denney of Fairbury told Republican ward and precinct workers in Lincoln that Morrison "said a mouthful recently when he described him-

Hodges Favors Speedy Tax Cut

Washington (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges recommended Tuesday that the government cut personal and corporate income taxes speedily next year and put off other reforms until later.

He emphasized that he spoke for himself, not the administration. President Kennedy and Treasury officials favor cutting income levies and reforming tax structures in one stroke.

"If you tie both together you could get the whole thing bogged down," Hodges told a news conference. He said his strategy would be to get tax relief on the books quickly, then make it permanent later along with reforms.

Specifically, the secretary recommended reduction of the top individual tax rate from 91 to 65% and cutting the maximum corporate rate, paid by most corporations, from 52% to 47%.

Treasury officials said the recommendation to be made to Congress on the amount of cuts will depend on the President's decision, still to be made, on how much revenue loss can be absorbed. Hodges said he had no opinion on what would be acceptable losses.

"Even if you don't get reform I think you need the tax cut," Hodges said.

No Recession

He reiterated his view that no business recession is likely in the early part of 1963. Some economists have predicted a mild dip. But Hodges forecast that the economy would hold firm on a high plateau and resume expanding in the latter half of the year.

Looking at what appeared to be new auto industry reports, Hodges said new car sales set an October record. He said 1963 models sold in their first full month on the market at an annual rate of 7.5 million cars.

Auto industry men and economists watch early sales of new model autos closely for clues how avidly the public will buy them in the remainder of the model year. New car buying is the most volatile part of consumer spending for durable goods, a key element in the overall business picture.

Hodges also reported that factory sales rose 1% in September to a record high of $33.7 billion, seasonally adjusted. Among the durables, there were increases for fabricated metals, industrial machinery and autos. Among the soft goods, increases were posted in several lines, especially textiles and furs.

New orders, an indication of future production and sales, rose 2%. Gains for autos and electrical machinery were partly offset by declines in iron and steel, fabricated metals, aircraft and non-electrical machinery.

Welfare Department Asking Budget Hike

The State Department of Public Welfare Tuesday submitted a 1963-65 budget request for $46,555,200 — an increase of $2.9 million over the department's estimated expenditures for this biennium, and $6.2 million over its 1961-63 appropriation.

The increase in the department's estimated expenditures over the actual appropriation for the present biennium results from the fact that the federal government allocated more money to the state than had been estimated originally.

Of the amount requested for the coming biennium, $15,359,000 would come from the state's property tax-supported general fund, a hike of $1.5 million over the department's estimated expenditures for this biennium, and an increase of $1.3 million over its current appropriation.

Requesting Less

general funds for the coming biennium than it originally sought for the 1961-63 biennium.

A total of $31,195,200 is requested in federal funds for the 1963-65 biennium, compared with the $26,300,000 appropriated for the current biennium, and the $29,719,093 actually received in federal monies.

State Welfare Director Frank Woods noted that the general fund increase requested was attributable to the fact that more old age assistance recipients are in need of nursing home care, and because of a slight modification in the federal matching formula.

More funds also will be needed for the actual payments on boarding home care for state wards, as well as for additional personnel to administer the program, he said.

Woods said the foster care cases in boarding homes numbered 145 July 1, 1961, and had jumped to 180 in September of this year. He estimated the number will reach 220 by 1965.

Police said Vernon told them he is an unemployed musician from San Antonio, Tex. He said he arrived in Chicago Sunday and checked into a hotel not far from the rectory Monday night. Police said he told of visiting a number of taverns before the attempted burglary. The church and rectory are near Skid Row.

Investigators said they found a list of 10 other Chicago churches in Vernon's hotel room. They said San Antonio police said he is wanted for burglary of a church there.

The Walsh sisters, natives of Limerick, Ireland, came to the United States 14 and 15 years ago and had worked and lived in several Chicago churches. Two other sisters in Ireland are nuns.

Polish Chuckle Over Blockade Slightly Smelly

Warsaw, Poland (P)—Now that tension has let up in Cuba, Poles are telling a joke about the U.S. blockade.

The captain of the 10,000-ton freighter Bialystok — which is said to have docked in Havana Monday — nervously asked Warsaw for instructions as he neared the line of U.S. warships.

"What," he asked, "shall I do if the Americans refuse to believe I am carrying onions?"

As one official tells it, the government wired this reply: "Tell them to smell."

UNION SHOP PLAN BEAT AT CONVAIR

Washington (P)—Employees of the Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. have voted down a proposed union shop arrangement, government officials said Tuesday.

North American Aircraft Co. workers previously had rejected the proposal.

Results of the balloting among the space and missile workers in California were made known here by officials of the National Labor Relations Board. The government agency conducted the polls.

Convair had more than 19,000 eligible workers and North American about 35,000.

More than a majority of Convair workers, represented by the AFL-CIO Machinists, approved the union shop but the 9,268 to 7,822 count fell short of the required two-thirds margin.

The approving margin among Convair workers was just under 55%.

It had been just under 60% at North American. Convair produces the Atlas missile, North American various components for missiles and spacecraft including the experimental X15.

Cuba Recalls Ambassador To The U.N.

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) —Cuban Premier Fidel Castro Tuesday recalled his ambassador to the United Nations while acting Secretary General Thant was in Havana to arrange for U.N. observation of the dismantling of Soviet missile bases in Cuba.

Informed sources said Ambassador Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui, a fiery and emotional speaker, was recalled by Castro because he had proclaimed in the Security Council a week ago that Cuba never would accept U.N. observers.

Garcia-Inchaustegui attended meetings here Tuesday.

Red China Rebuffed

... U.N. Membership Again Denied

United Nations, N.Y. (P)—The General Assembly turned thumbs down Tuesday on Red China's latest bid for U.N. membership as African nations helped block admission by a wider margin than last year.

The vote on the Soviet resolution to expel Nationalist China from the world organization and to seat the Peiping regime in its place was 42 in favor, 56 against and 12 abstaining.

Last year, the first time the United States was unable to put off a floor vote, the same resolution was rejected in closer balloting—36 for, 48 against and 20 abstaining. Both votes fell far short of the required two-thirds majority.

Voting Tuesday followed a last ditch appeal by African nations to seat both Peiping and the Chinese nationalists. They drew a stern rebuttal from the Soviet Union, declined to press the so-called "two-China plan" and rallied behind the United States in opposition to the Soviet resolution.

Big Victory for U.S. Although Britain and the Scandinavian nations again voted for the resolution, Tuesday's result was seen as a big victory for the United States and its Allies. They strongly opposed seating Red China, citing Peiping's military thrust into India as proof of its defiance of the U.N. Charter.

A U.S. spokesman said later the United States was "highly gratified at the result."

Indian, the champion of Red China's admission in past years, again supported the resolution as expected, despite its charges that the Chinese communists are carrying out a premeditated aggression against India.

Indian spokesmen had argued that the only effective way to halt Chinese "military adventurism" is to seat Peiping in the U.N.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin said after the vote that the setback was only temporary. He said the Chinese-Indian fighting "was dragged before the Assembly" in a maneuver to block admission. The border fighting, he added, "has no relation whatsoever" to the issue of Chinese representation in the U.N.

Britain's Joseph B. Godber deplored the "armed incursion by China across India's northern frontiers."

"But this does not alter the view of the United Kingdom government, which is shared by the government of India themselves, that the Chinese peoples' government is the government of China," he added. Britain voted for admission last year.

Fourteen countries changed their votes this year, including 8 African nations which switched from abstentions to opposition— Ivory Coast, Niger, Upper Volta, Central African Republic, Chad, Congo (Leopoldville), Congo (Brazzaville), and Dahomey.

Mrs. Roosevelt Is 'A Little Stronger'

New York (UPI)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, ailing for weeks with a lung infection and anemia, was reported by a family spokesman Tuesday to be "feeling a little better and a little stronger."

The 78-year-old former first lady was admitted to Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital Sept. 26 after her temperature shot up alarmingly. She was permitted to go home two weeks ago after her temperature had been brought back to normal.

She was described as appearing more alert, but still is seriously ill. Only immediate members of the family have been permitted to visit her.

Military Remains On Alert

Jets Stay In Air And Ships At Sea

By JIM BECKER

Key West, Fla. (P)—American jets flew around the clock missions in connection with the Cuban situation Tuesday as the built-up military establishment in this city 90 miles from Havana remained on the alert.

Ships from the Key West Navy Base stayed at sea, despite the interruption of the blockade of Cuba.

Fire drills at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station sent black smoke clouds into the sky as ground personnel practiced moving quickly to the scene of a possible crash.

The city was sleepy and the school buses which were parked at the ready outside schools during sessions last week, at the height of the crisis, were back in their barns.

Apparently the buses had been poised to remove the school children in an emergency.

Key West motel operators said the tourist trade—in the doldrums since the military buildup began in the city—had picked up slightly but was far from thriving.

There was no sign of any dismantling of the buildup, which has included the installation of anti-aircraft missiles on a beach.

Truck Driver Charged With Car Homicide

A Colorado truck driver waived preliminary hearing in Lancaster County Court Tuesday after being charged with motor vehicle homicide in connection with the Monday night death of Charles E. Chambers.

Norman Eugene McCabe, 24, of Sterling, Colo., was bound over to District Court on Mr. Chambers' $3,000 bond by Judge Ralph Slocum.

Mr. Chambers, 24-year-old mathematics instructor at Irving Junior High, was fatally injured in the car-truck crash which occurred about one-fourth mile east of U.S. 77 at the junction of a dirt county road and the Neb. 2 cutoff south of Lincoln.

According to the Safety Patrol, Mr. Chambers' car was stopped on the dirt road when struck by the grain truck which missed a curve on the cutoff and went down the county road.

Rosemary Hooks, 23, of 3120 So. 44th, a passenger in the Chambers car, was hospitalized with facial cuts and back injuries.

OLD ABE WEATHERWISE SAYS:

IT LOOKS LIKE A COLDER WINTER WITH MORE SNOW

Dublin, N.H. (P)—Old Abe Weatherwise came out Tuesday with a not-too-cheerful earful about the weather that lies ahead—November through April.

Writing in the 1963 Old Farmer's Almanac, in its 171st continuous year of publication, he tossed out this forecast: "This winter will be quite a bit colder than those of recent years."

Not only will it figure 1.39 degrees chillier than average, he said, but snowfall will also be heavier than last year.

"Looks like a bad March and April," he added for the benefit of those who look forward to an early spring, "and at least one good storm in each of the other months."

His forecast runs from November through April. He decided last year that April should be considered a winter month.

"But that's only one man's opinion," commented the Lincoln Weather Bureau.

The Old Almanac is full of other information. There's an article on how to outsmart garden insect pests without poisons. By planting herbs, for instance. Or overcoming cucumber troubles by planting rings of radishes around them.

Did you know your eyes move when you are dreaming? They do, the almanac tells you, because you are watching what you are dreaming. The article says, "Dreams don't lie."

U.S. Officers Escape Terrorist's Grenade

Saigon, South Viet Nam (UPI)—Three U.S. officers in a jeep narrowly escaped death Tuesday when a grenade tossed by a communist terrorist struck one on the head and bounced into the street before exploding.

Three South Vietnamese pedestrians on the crowded street were injured by shrapnel from the explosive.

The grenade was hurled by a man on a motorbike. He escaped despite pursuit by the officers.

A U.S. military spokesman identified the Americans involved only as Army Capt. Langbein, Army Maj. Croft and Navy Lt. Pegnaue.

It was Langbein's involuntary "headwork" which foiled the attempted assassination, the spokesman said. Langbein was treated later for a bruise caused by the missile.

The attack took place one block west of the U.S. Military Assistance and Advisory Group (MAAG) headquarters in the Saigon suburb of Cholon.

The jeep was not damaged in the explosion and the officers promptly set out in pursuit of the terrorist. But they lost him after he abandoned his bike and fled into a side street.

It was the second Viet Cong communist bomb attack in Saigon in the past 5 days. Last Friday, a terrorist hurled a bomb into a crowd of Vietnamese visiting a U.S. military equipment exhibition during independence day ceremonies.

The death toll in that attack rose to 7 when one of the injured died. Hospital authorities said at least 3 others of the 26 wounded are in critical condition.

The December call brings to 2,773,450 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of selective service in December, 1950.

Forty-nine Nebraskans are included in the December quota. Col. Francis Drath of the Nebraska Selective Service Board reported.

U.S. Will Speed Aid To India

... Deliveries To Depend On Type Of Arms Asked

By SPENCER DAVIS

Washington (P)—U.S. and Indian defense officials met again Tuesday to discuss a shopping list of military items urgently needed to bolster Indian resistance to Chinese communist invaders.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White announced that the list has been submitted formally and is undergoing study at the Defense Department.

White said the time of delivery will depend on U.S. capabilities to fill the request—but "we are making arrangements to supply the assistance as quickly as possible."

There were strong indications that India's requirements go beyond small arms and communications equipment to aid Indian troops now armed with antiquated weapons.

Overhaul Needed

Military experts said the whole Indian army needs an overhaul, including re-equipment and reorganization if Prime Minister Nehru's pledge to repel the Chinese communists and regain India's lost territory is to be fulfilled.

U.S. Defense officials disclosed that lower level talks between American and Indian staff officers began Monday at the Defense Department.

The immediate aim is to help Indian troops stop Chinese columns from descending from the Himalayan Mountain passes toward the Indian plains.

Indian officials here said that with more modern equipment, including automatic weapons, their army will acquire itself well.

It was anticipated that a difference will be felt in Indian resistance in about 10 days time.

Madras, Ore. (P)—Jeanne June Freeman, 21, her legal pleas exhausted, was sentenced Tuesday to die in the state's gas chamber on Dec. 6. The slender brunette showed no emotion.

Oregon has never executed a woman. However, only executive clemency by Gov. Mark O. Hatfield can now save Miss Freeman.

Mrs. Jackson confessed throwing the girl into the canyon, and was sentenced to life imprisonment. Miss Freeman pleaded innocent but was convicted of throwing the boy to his death. Mrs. Jackson testified that Miss Freeman first beat both children.

The only explanation for the killings was the state's charge that the children were a burden to the women and interfered with their intimate relationship.

have announced officially 2,000 to 2,500 dead or missing.

The Chinese communists are taking no prisoners in the harsh mountain fighting.

Pakistan is viewing glumly the American response to India's request for military help.

GEN. LEMNITZER ARRIVES IN PARIS

Paris (P)—Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer checked in at American Headquarters for Europe (EUCOM) outside Paris Tuesday, preparing to take over command.

Ceremonies formally transferring command to Lemnitzer will be Thursday, making Lemnitzer commander-in-chief for American Army, Navy and Air Force units in Europe.

Lemnitzer was also scheduled to take over as supreme allied commander for Europe this week, but this transfer has been delayed. The United States and its Allies decided to retain Gen. Lauris Norstad in that post for the time being because of the Cuban crisis.

Tax Collections Up $42 Million

... Total Payments At $613,709,000

By the Associated Press
Internal revenue collections in Nebraska for the fiscal year ended June 30 totaled $613,709,000 a hike of $42,443,000 from the $571,266,000 collected in the previous year, the Internal Revenue Service reported Tuesday.

This included $449,063,000 in income and employment taxes, an increase of $33,977,000 over the previous year's total of $415,086,000.

Corporation income tax amounted to $97,860,000, compared with $94,504,000 a year ago.

Income tax withheld along with age and disability insurance payments totaled $278,829,000 and income tax not withheld amounted to $144,483,000.

During fiscal 1961 income tax withheld amounted to $260,600,000 and income tax not withheld amounted to $129,403,000.

Alcohol excise totaled $3,682,000 and other excise taxes amounted to $45,578. Alcohol excise taxes were down from the $9,841,000 collected a year ago, but other excise taxes were up from the $41,490,000 reported a year ago.

Total internal revenue collections amounted to $7,540,759 for the previous fiscal year.

Nationally the total was $99,440,839,000 compared with $94,401,086,000 a year earlier.

Embezzlement Charges Filed Against Woman

Omaha (AP) — Chief Deputy County Attorney Donald Knowles filed embezzlement charges Tuesday against Mary M. Krivolavek of Council Bluffs, former treasurer of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway Employees Credit Union.

Knowles said an audit supervised by the State Banking Department revealed a $6,045.77 shortage. He said the shortage was covered by bond and "apparently no one should suffer any losses."

He said the embezzlement was accomplished through writing bad checks and taking money from one account to cover shortages in another. He said the former treasurer admitted embezzling "some funds but not the entire shortage."

The complaint covers the period from Oct. 1, 1955, to May 19, 1961. She is no longer associated with the credit union.

State Banking Department Director Ralph Misko said Mrs. Krivolavek used 6 different methods to manipulate the credit union's books.

She signed a confession, directed to Misko, admitting her involvement Aug. 7, Misko said.

He explained that the charge was not filed or the case made known sooner because his examiners had to determine the exact amount of the shortage.

'Mask Parade' Goes On Display

Hugh Moore, left, Arapahoe sophomore at Hastings College, and Dave Vandergrif of Omaha are shown admiring 5 of the 38 masks included in the "Mask Parade—A Bizarre Collection of False Faces" on exhibit in Fuhr Hall of Fine Arts at Hastings College. The display, timed to coincide partially with the American Halloween tradition, includes 38 masks from nearly every area of the world. The collection is on loan from the University of Pennsylvania Museum in Philadelphia.

Corn Harvest 30% Completed; Panhandle Wheat Needs Rain

Thirty per cent of Nebraska's corn and three-fifths of the grain sorghum crop have now been harvested, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

The corn harvest progress as of last weekend was somewhat ahead of last year but about seasonally normal, according to the weekly crop report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Warm, dry weather has lowered the moisture content of much of the grain, permitting harvest without artificial drying.

Corn averaged 21% moisture, down two per cent for the week and one point under a year ago. Sorghum averaged 15%, off one point for the week but one point above a year ago.

Other crop report observations: The soybean harvest is 85% completed.

Sugar beet lifting should be completed within a week. Beet tares are running higher than in recent years.

Combining of safflower is nearly completed and the bean crop is in the cleanup stage.

Fall seeded grain have made excellent top and root development. Some farmers are taking advantage of the lush wheat fields for pasture.

Top soil moisture is short in the Panhandle and rains are needed to sustain plant development until the crop enters the dormant stage for winter.

Pastures and ranges remain in unusually good condition.

Movement of cattle to winter feeding quarters is nearly completed. Some livestock have been placed in stalk fields where abundant forage is available. Cattle in feedlots have benefitted from dry footing and have made good gains.

Trial Attorneys Back Merit Plan

Omaha (AP) — The Nebraska Association of Trial Attorneys is "wholeheartedly" in favor of the merit plan for selecting judges, Warren C. Schrempp, president of the group, announced Tuesday.

Schrempp said "the concept of recommendation of judges by the practicing attorneys, coupled with a submission of approved judges to the electorate has proved its worth in the fourth judicial district in which Omaha and Douglas County are situated."

The question goes to the voters next Tuesday.

Kiewit Seeks Ownership Of World-Herald

Omaha (UPI) — The Omaha World-Herald announced Tuesday night an offer to buy the paper and other principal properties of the World Publishing Company of Omaha has been made by Peter Kiewit Sons' Co., of Omaha.

The publishing company board of directors said the proposal would be referred to a special meeting of stockholders Wednesday morning. Terms of the Kiewit proposal were not announced.

Peter Kiewit, president of the construction company which bears his name, said the offer was made to keep ownership of the paper local.

The directors previously announced they had received an offer from Samuel I. Newhouse of New York to purchase the paper. The reported purchase price was $42 million.

Newhouse Offer Accepted, Claims New York Times

New York (AP) — The New York Times said Tuesday directors of the company which operates the Omaha World-Herald have accepted an offer of about $40 million from Samuel I. Newhouse for the paper and other properties.

The Times said the board will recommend to stockholders of the World Publishing Co., scheduled to gather in a special meeting Wednesday, that they approve the transaction.

Newhouse currently owns, wholly or partly, 19 newspapers with aggregate circulation of about 6 million. This is second only in circulation of papers to the Hearst group.

Included in the proposed purchase at Omaha are certain cash assets of the paper, the Times said, plus television station KETV and real estate properties including an office building.

A spokesman for the newspaper, when questioned Monday, would say only that "negotiations are running smoothly," the Times said.

If Newhouse's offer is accepted it would be the second highest price he has paid for a newspaper property.

Earlier this year he bought the New Orleans Times-Picayune and States-Item for $42 million.

Hepatitis Cases Up 6 Last Week

Six new hepatitis cases were recorded last week, bringing the year's total to 182, compared to 587 the same time a year ago, the State Department of Health reported Tuesday.

Three of the new cases were in Douglas County, the other 3 in Platte County.

A polio case from Cherry County was officially reported to the State Health Department during the week. The total for the year is now 9, one more than the same time a year ago.

Inman School Closes After Disagreement

Inman (AP) — The Inman Public Schools were closed this week as the result of a dispute over the authority of the board of education and Supt. G. E. Tennis.

Mrs. H. E. Smith, secretary of the board of education, said the board decided in a special meeting last Thursday night to close the schools until there is evidence the community is prepared to support the board's policies.

She said the dispute involved a disagreement over curriculum matters in which a member of the faculty was unwilling to accept the direction of the superintendent, but she declined to elaborate.

Both Supt. Tennis and Lewis Kopecky, president of the board of education, were out of town Tuesday.

Mrs. Smith said the Inman Community Club already has given a vote of confidence to the board and the board is hopeful that schools can be reopened shortly.

Inman has a faculty of 8 full-time teachers and a part-time band instructor. High school enrollment is 36.

Wheat Market Outlook Up To Producers, Claims Seeborg

"The U.S. has the potential to become the world's best source of wheat, but the attitudes and actions of wheat producers and our own grain trade will determine whether or not we reach this goal," a federal official declared here.

"The competitive position of all U.S. wheat in foreign markets would be much better if the average level of dockage, foreign material, shrunken and broken kernels and other grains were reduced to a similar level as found in Canadian exports."

Edward Seeborg of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., spoke on the second day of the first national conference on Wheat Utilization Research at the University of Nebraska Center.

"An effective marketing tool is urgently needed to enable exporters to compete with Canadian wheat on the basis of equal claimliness," he said.

New findings in the chemistry of bread flavor may lead to development of a superior bread that will result in higher consumption.

That prediction was made by R. L. Olson of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Western Regional Utilization Research Laboratory at Albany, Calif.

"There have been many significant advances in recent years in the chemistry of bread flavor and the tools of research have advanced so that future progress should be at an accelerated pace," Olson declared.

7-Point Plan
Clifford R. Hope, president of Great Plains Wheat Inc., Garden City, Kan., presented a 7 point program for developing foreign markets for U.S. wheat:

- Work at market development continuously and methodically;
- Make every effort to reduce and eliminate trade barriers;
- Reduce transportation rates;
- Continue to improve wheat quality;
- Develop through research new wheat products which have an appeal in areas where wheat has not heretofore been used extensively and promote the same through research and nutritional programs;
- Revise grain standards in such a way as to enable foreign buyers to determine more definitely what they are buying;
- Establish government policies which will encourage exports in highly competitive hard currency markets.

Why Fred Seaton?

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There are many things about which we might talk in relation to our support of Fred Seaton as governor of Nebraska. There are those, for instance, who have denounced this position as unbefitting of what is considered a Democratic-leaning newspaper. They are people who, unknowingly, subscribe to the theory that two wrongs make a right. They want this newspaper to be as blind and partisan in behalf of the Democratic cause as they maintain other large elements of the Nebraska press are in behalf of the Republican cause.

They denounce newspapers which repeatedly and without due consideration endorse everything Republican just because it is Republican. They then take this newspaper to task for not falling into the same trap on the other side of the fence. But we still place our faith in the belief that readers want honest convictions on their editorial page, not prejudice. And this is what they have consistently received from The Star. This is not the first time Mr. Seaton has been supported by this newspaper. In 1952 it was The Lincoln Star, under another editor, that initiated a write-in campaign for Seaton as the Republican nominee for the Senate, a post he was holding at the time by appointment from Gov. Val Peterson.

Then, it has been noted that Seaton alone is one thing, but compared to Gov. Frank Morrison is another thing. Look, say Morrison and his backers, at the governor's record. The fact is that we have looked and we have little regard for that record. It is a record of mediocrity and we want more than this for Nebraska.

Finally, we can discuss Seaton himself. What has he ever done for Nebraska, it is asked, and isn't it bad enough that he is a member of the Republican party? Make no mistake about it, Fred Seaton is a Republican and hasn't tried to hide the fact as Governor Morrison has tried to do with his party affiliation.

But what sort of Republican is Mr. Seaton? There are all kinds of people and all kinds of thought in both parties. George Norris started out as a Republican, Sen. Carl Curtis was once a Democrat and many other names prominent in Nebraska politics can be found at different times on different sides of the registration books. The Republicans love Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, a Democrat, while the Democrats get along quite well with Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Kentucky Republican. Another prominent senator, Wayne Morse of Oregon, started as a Republican but bolted the party to support Adlai Stevenson in his first race against Dwight Eisenhower. There are Beermans and Rockefellers who are poles apart in the same party as there are Democrats of widely conflicting views. So, do you vote a straight ticket? Not if you have any real sense of your public responsibility.

First of all, what has Seaton done for Nebraska? To begin with, he has served with honor on the national scene as special liaison man for President Eisenhower, as assistant secretary of defense, as secretary of interior, as senator from Nebraska and as campaign strategist for both Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard Nixon in his bid for the presidency. If this is not a credit and honor to Nebraska, we don't know what is.

Beyond this, Seaton has served two terms, in the 1945 and 1947 session, as a state senator. He has been an active part in the fostering of flood control and general resources development throughout this state. He has a close agricultural background, including his own farm. He has been highly successful in business—a publishing business that he has built through his own initiative and hard work. He has been an active member of his community of Hastings, including presidency of the local Chamber of Commerce. He has served on the boards of educational institutions of higher learning in this state.

Something personal in parts of this background? To be sure, but if that background is not, too, of benefit to Nebraska, then we admit the error of our support. And all of that is but the beginning. What did Seaton do as state senator? Part of the reason he lost in a third bid for the Legislature was because he supported a water diversion bill and a rural roads bill which, while marks of character, won him the animosity of certain groups.

As state senator he was the principal supporter in the 1945 session of the one and one-tenth special mill levy for an institutional building fund. This program is still in existence today and considered one of the most significant pieces of legislative work ever achieved by Nebraska.

As a state senator, Mr. Seaton was the principal introducer of a number of bills relating to mental health. He modernized the mental health laws, eliminating the old inhuman insanity board, providing for voluntary admissions, for safeguards against railroadings into mental institutions, for higher salaries for hospital directors and other improvements. His work prompted the then head of the State Hospital at Hastings, Dr. Juul Nielsen, to note that Seaton had done more for mental health than had been done in Nebraska for the past 25 years. Between terms he was chairman of the important Legislative Council and served on a number of other committees. From then speaker of the Legislature, Sen. Harry Pizer of North Platte, came the tribute that Mr. Seaton was one of the most outstanding senators the Unicameral ever produced.

And maybe there is someone, even, who wants to know what Mr. Seaton has done for Lincoln. As an example, you might consider the Lincoln Air Force Base which was reactivated in 1952. At that time a U.S. senator, Seaton was the Washington workhorse who carried the ball for Lincoln. When a crucial House vote came up on a reactivation appropriation, it was Seaton who managed to arrange illness and House absence for a Kansas representative who vigorously opposed the Lincoln reactivation in committee. It was Senator Seaton who managed later to drive through an appropriation for relocation of the Navy station at the Lincoln base—a move which had threatened to kill the reactivation.

And what sort of philosophy did Seaton expose in other work in the Senate? He voted against the traditional conservative and special interest record of the late Sen. Hugh Butler, a Republican colleague from Nebraska, time after time after time. He opposed vigorously the give-away of Tidelands oil and later, as secretary of interior, administered a Tidelands program that brought handsome royalties to the federal government for the benefit of all the people of the nation—the program he favored as a senator.

He fought selfish interests of those in both political parties who opposed statehood for Alaska and later Hawaii. His first major address to the Senate was in support of Alaskan statehood—again, against Republican Butler. He stood against favoritism when he fought for a bill in the Senate to take the Internal Revenue Bureau out of politics. Here is what Drew Pearson, a usually Democratic columnist, had to say about that: "However, Seaton, a forthright newspaper publisher and one of the best new members of the Senate, voted his convictions—for taking tax collection out of politics."

Senator Seaton voted against a motion to recommit the Saint Lawrence Seaway resolution; against passage of the discriminating McCarran-Walter immigration bill and against an amendment to reduce flood control appropriations. What has Seaton done for Nebraska? If you can't figure your own stake from that record, you are not very alert.

And then, there was Mr. Seaton as secretary of the interior. In this capacity he fought a $65 million fast tax write-off over a five-year period for the Idaho Power Co. on two of three of its dams in the Hells Canyon area. He pushed for improved techniques in the treatment of saline water for safe use. "No new starts" was a popularized label for interior at the time but the fact is that new starts did take place and even Seaton and Eisenhower approved them on engineering and planning.

It was Seaton as interior secretary who received the approval needed to get things going on the Ainsworth, Farwell, Midstate and Red Willow projects here in Nebraska. It was Seaton who ruled, in one of his last decisions as interior secretary, in favor of the Bureau of Reclamation as opposed to more costly private groups in the transmission of the more than a million kilowatts of power coming from dams on the Colorado River Storage Project.

It was Seaton who turned the give-away policies of his predecessor, Douglas McKay, into a policy of public trust and benefit. It was Seaton who received as secretary of interior the acclaim and admiration of wild life enthusiasts and conservationists throughout the nation—receiving honors that had never been accorded to any other secretary. Interior when Seaton took over was one of the most controversial and hated arms of the administration and it was the most tranquil, respected and liked by factions on all sides when Seaton left.

And finally, what is Seaton's political philosophy, his view of government? In a statement of some years ago, which he has always stood by, he said in part: "It does us little credit as a political party and it does no good whatever at the polls to cry, 'socialism,' every time a measure is offered to combat or correct an evil which has been born out of our increasing stature as a great industrial, mercantile and agricultural state."

"Certainly it is not 'socialism' to abolish the sweatshop, to regulate hours and put a floor under wages. Neither it is 'socialism' to regulate the stock exchange or the dealings in agricultural commodities, to assure the farmer of parity between the prices of what he sells and the prices of what he must buy. Nor is it 'socialism' to conserve our national resources, to build dams for flood control, for irrigation and for electric power, or to bring electricity to the farmers . . .

"These government functions are no more 'socialism' than are the public schools, the building of roads, unemployment insurance or social security. They simply are the hallmarks of the enlightened state, not the bar sinister of a paternalistic one, as some would have you believe . . ." There are his record and his thinking and a great deal more could be added if it were not for limitations upon the reader's patience. We do not agree with everything that Seaton has ever done or said nor are we so naive as to believe we would never disagree with him if he were elected governor.

But we do believe that his record is one of service to mankind, that he has demonstrated a keen executive ability, that he displays integrity and character and that he assumes responsibility with vigor. We believe it to be a record which is so clearly superior and so lacking in prejudice and partisanship as to warrant a decisive edge over his gubernatorial opponent. Politics and public life are often quite different and so can be men and the party label they wear. It's what's inside that counts and we think Seaton has it where it counts.

Castro Darting Toward Hideouts

WASHINGTON — Underground reports from Havana claim that Fidel Castro, mockingly called "The Horse" by his enemies, has been a scared horse indeed since the United States clamped its ring of steel around Cuba.

Skittish even in public, he has been seeing imaginary U.S. Marines behind every building. He alternately has promised to fight to the death and has made panicky plans to flee from the invasion he expects any minute.

Only his most trusted aides have any idea where he can be found at a given moment. He sleeps at a different hideout every night.

Uncertain of his own people, he has also ordered a massive round-up of questionable Cubans, who are waiting out the crisis in makeshift concentration camps.

Castro was shaken by the American show of determination, which startled him as if his cigar had exploded in his face.

Apparently, he had been convinced that the United States was too frightened of Soviet might ever to threaten his Cuban domain.

He had even taunted President Kennedy about his inability to prevent the Soviet buildup, like a brat taunting a bigger boy from behind his mother's skirts.

Sources close to Castro describe him as a maverick Marxist, who could never submit to party discipline. Though red as a baboon's bottom, he was more interested in personal glory. His passion for political power is like that of an insanely jealous man for a woman.

He refused to take orders from the professional communists and plunged ahead with the communization of Cuba at a far more reckless pace than they advised, trying to prove he was more revolutionary than they were.

It was fear of a U.S. invasion, Havana sources say, that finally persuaded him to sell out to the Kremlin and turn Cuba into an outright Soviet bastion. The flow of Russian weapons into Cuba bolstered his confidence and gave swing to his swagger.

But President Kennedy has turned out to be more bold and belligerent than Castro had expected. The jolting events of the past ten days have been enough to curl his beard.

Col. William E. Knox, president of Westinghouse Electric International to whom Nikita Khrushchev gave a three-hour interview during the first day of the Cuban crisis, has now been summoned to Washington for a full report to the State Department.

The story of how Khrushchev took time out to talk things over with a representative of one of the biggest companies in the USA is considered significant.

Knox reported to the State Department that Khrushchev was calm, cordial, mild, even charming. He also seemed tired. He complained about American "piracy" and the ultimatums he had received from President Kennedy and expressed disappointment in Kennedy whom he had hoped would inaugurate new and better relations.

Democrats, Crises Keep The Public Mind Aroused

NEW YORK—Tension often leads to insomnia.

This week, all around the globe, insomnia has abounded.

Is that altogether bad? Of course not. Nothing is altogether bad.

It is now believed that people work better after sleepless nights than after nights of sound sleep.

Dr. Donald R. Broadbent of the Medical Research Council in London has revealed a multitude of experiments shows that persons perform best when their minds are "aroused" by a tough night of sheep (or worry) counting.

He said the council's scientists have found that men and women who work on mental problems can "over-concentrate" on a job with the result that their efficiency falls.

"The effect of a sleepless night," he contends, "can prevent this. The mind is aroused but it is not always too stimulated."

The ideal climate for the relatively sleepless efficiency experts is to work in noisy surroundings—because the noise keeps them alert.

So, you see, even world crisis and the rude sounds of international threats may be good for something. They keep the world alert, on its toes, efficient.

This is what's called looking at life and death through rose-colored corneas . . .

The current crisis has the effect of pulling both political parties, even in a hot election period, closer together.

But actually, Democrats and Republicans are wildly different. Issues aside, humorist Will Stanton (in a national magazine) lists some of their basic incongenialities:

"Democrats watch TV crime and western shows that make them feel their fists and become the face. Republicans the same effect from presidential press conferences.

"Democrats buy most of the books that have been banned somewhere. Republicans form censorship committees and read them as a group.

"Democrats keep trying to cut down on smoking, but are not successful. Neither are Republicans.

"Republicans raise dachshunds, Dalmatians and eye-brows. Democrats raise Airedales, kids and taxes.

"Republicans sleep in twin beds—some even in separate rooms. That is why there are more Democrats."

Merit Plan

Lincoln, Neb.

According to the so-called Voters Research Bureau, we no longer have the right to amend our constitution. When a modern, better system for choosing our judges was proposed in the Legislature, those men we elected studied the Merit Plan and voted for it 5 to 1. Now we have the chance to approve it on election day. I'd say we were giving up our fundamental right to amend our constitution by voting against the amendment. What's more, while the Merit Plan for selecting judges may not be perfect, it at least is an improvement over the expensive political campaigns judges have to wage nowadays.

MRS. THOMAS OGDEN

Definite Opinions

Lincoln, Neb.

In all these arguments for and against a four-year term for mayor or governor, the reasoning that a two-year term is not long enough to carry out a long-range program does not hold water.

Anyone who is desirous of becoming mayor or aspires to any major elective office should have definite plans which he should announce, and explain what he intends to do if elected. One who is not interested enough in public affairs to have opinions about what should be done or corrected would surely not be a public-spirited citizen. And it would be only too easy to lead or sway such a person into doing just the opposite of what was expected of him by some powerful group of opinionated self-seekers.

ARTHUR IMIG

The Word 'Could'

Lincoln, Neb.

The carefully chosen title for the Star editorial of October 22, "Seaton Could Be Great," is a splendid illustration of your delicate sensitivity in the selection of words. The editorial is a noble long-sustained effort to establish the wishful hope—in lieu of evidence—of greatness that fails to appear. If Mr. Seaton were a young unknown, the "could be great" might well apply to him. Mr. Seaton has been in very advantageous public positions for many years, including four years as secretary of the interior with an under-secretary and five assistant secretaries and 56,000 employees, and an annual expenditure of between half and three-quarters of a billion dollars.

Can you find no achievement? How about the Salt Wahoo watershed development that sat for four years while he was secretary, waiting for a new administration to give it the green light?

It was a fine choice of words to say that he "could" be great.

Morrison Record

Lincoln, Neb.

Governor Morrison has been aggressive in getting new industries for Nebraska. He has found new uses for agricultural products and new markets for both old and new products, plus promoting all phases of the Nebraska economy. He has shown outstanding leadership in promoting tourism in the state, in seeking increased support for higher education, in instituting more efficient yet more economical operation of all departments of state government and in promoting highway safety.

His opponent says he will do all these things, and do them better. He offers no assurance of this beyond his vague promises. He does not state how he can accomplish his promises. In his eight years in Washington, he did not demonstrate aggressive leadership, so why should he be expected to do so in state government?

Governor Morrison is not campaigning on vague promises, but on his enviable record of achievement.

Amendment No. 7

Lincoln, Neb.

Senator Fern Orme is to be commended for supporting the proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 7 which would give 20 to 30 per cent weight to area in legislative redistricting. The majority of states that have two legislative bodies select their members on an area basis in one house and on population in the other, which gives minority groups fair representation.

Agriculture is the biggest and most important business in Nebraska and for many years the trend in population has been toward urban areas. But never before have so few people contributed so much to our economy and standard of living.

Let's keep in mind that in Nebraska, people are not taxed. We tax property and rural people continue to pay more and more of our tax revenue in spite of the declining population. I don't believe we want to say to the rural people: "We have you outnumbered and if you don't have adequate legislative members, we will legislate for you."

Rural Nebraska is deserving of a "yes" vote on Constitutional Amendment No. 7 and Senator Orme should be returned to the Legislature from the 20th District. She has proven that she has the capacity to think straight and the courage to stand up and be counted on controversial issues.

I wish to thank The Star for the pictures and write-up concerning Bishop Kennedy in the October 25 issues. Bishop Kennedy is a fine man who brings a vital message to his listeners. The Star is to be commended for its fine presentation.

Discourtesy

Plattsmouth, Neb.

Our governor, Frank Morrison, must really have sold his soul to the Republican party to be compelled to ignore the vice president of the United States. This was not good politics. It was discourteous and smacks of dirty politics. As governor, it was his duty to officially welcome Vice President Johnson.

No straight-thinking Democrat will even think of casting his vote for him now.

Area Basis

Alexandria, Neb.

Those who think that only the number of persons represented should be considered in electing legislators should consider the fact that they like to eat. Very few persons live on the ranches and farms that are used to raise and fatten the beef. These people are very much interested in seeing that bad laws do not hamper the food producers. Perhaps they had better speak up and say that 20 to 30 per cent added for area representation is not enough and that they want it to be 100 per cent.

Negative Voter

Hastings, Neb.

In this time of crisis, the leadership and views of former President Eisenhower are sorely missed. His dedication to world peace was a source of strength to the entire world as well as to this nation.

To this day he firmly believes and preaches that the only road to peace is through shouldering our world responsibilities. He believes in the United Nations as a useful instrument of peace even though it has not solved all our problems. He believes that foreign aid has accomplished many things and as president consistently asked for more funds than he received for it. He believes the Peace Corps is an unqualified success.

Yet we Republicans are about to send a man to Congress whose views are so diametrically opposed to the views of Mr. Eisenhower that it is ridiculous that they could be of the same political party. Ralph Beermann has voted against everything that Eisenhower fought for. He is against all foreign aid. He is against the United Nations. He is against the Peace Corps. He is against spending one cent to fight communism.

This leaves us one alternative—to fight it out with nuclear weapons.

I can think of no greater danger to our country than to send extremists such as Ralph Beermann to our Congress.

Nebraska Banks

Hastings, Neb.

Nebraska has too many uninsured banks! Of the 13,432 commercial banks in operation throughout the United States on December 31, 1961, only 323 institutions do not have their deposits insured with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Nebraska with 31 uninsured banks accounts for nearly 10 per cent of the nation's banks not covered by deposit insurance. Georgia is the only state having more uninsured banks than does Nebraska. In seven states, all the banks are insured and in each of 29 additional states, only five or fewer banks are not covered by the federal insurance. This condition persists in our state even though deposit insurance has been available since January 1, 1934. In 1950 federal legislation raised the amount of insurance coverage for each individual account from $5,000 to $10,000.

A closer examination of the Nebraska situation reveals that six of the 31 uninsured institutions are non-eligible trust companies which are not engaged in a regular deposit-banking business. The 25 remaining banks are very small institutions (16 with deposits under $1 million), all but one operating in one-bank communities with populations under 1,000. In these communities, the banks constitute local monopolies which in addition to not providing deposit insurance are incapable of supplying their customers with the quality and selection of financial services available from larger banking institutions. Even with the more liberal lending limits permitted state-chartered banks, these small institutions cannot extend loans large enough to meet the credit needs of the larger borrowers. Situations such as these predominate in states which exclude branch banking.

Excessive Speed

Lincoln, Neb.

On October 25, 1962, I drove to Omaha. On the Interstate Highway, a state car passed me at an excessive speed. He passed a State Patrol car at a speed far in excess of the legal speed limit. When he crossed the Platte River bridge, his speed was over 100 miles per hour. After making these observations, I reduced my speed to the legal limit.

This driver also had a small boy with him, who I doubt was a state employee. The license on this car was No. 329.

If our governor believes in his "safe driving" campaign, I suggest he start with his state employees.

'New Industries Alone Won't Solve Nation's Problems'

Wednesday, Oct. 31, 1962

The Lincoln Star 5

While the creation of new products and new industries of a technological nature is important, it is not necessarily going to be enough to solve this country's social or economic problems.

These are the views of Dr. Nevitt Sanford, a noted psychologist from Stanford University who spoke at a University of Nebraska convocation Tuesday.

Dr. Sanford told the Nebraska students that as the gross national product increases, fewer people produce goods for more because of industrial advance and automation.

"Now, more than ever before, we need the artists, writers, and the inventors to create demand for services which cannot be fulfilled by machines and liberally educated people who will spend time and energy in fruitful way pursuing the services," he said.

It does little good, he said, to give people short term and small amounts of technological education when what they learn will be outmoded almost as soon as they are finished learning it.

"Only a liberal education offers promise of producing enough discrimination and sensitivity so that the level of taste in our society can be raised or maintained," he said.

Dr. Sanford told the students to take, as an example, what the appreciation of music can do: "A multi-million dollar industry employing thousands of people arose with high fidelity reproduction of music, but not before the taste and appreciation of people were raised to the point where they demanded it," he said.

"Liberal education is that way," he said. "The goals of our society must not be goods first, but services first, based on the best education you can give your people."

Dr. Sanford explained that what is needed is exciting, creative people to find ways and means of developing purpose in others.

Dr. Sanford's address "Education for Individual Development," was made at the Nebraska Union.

State Must Pay Hospital Care For Dependent Child

The State of Nebraska is liable for the cost of care of a child found to be dependent or neglected and who is committed to a state hospital because of a mental illness.

This opinion was delivered by the Nebraska attorney general's office on request from Frank M. Woods, director of the State Welfare Department.

Woods asked if such a child was assigned to the public welfare department and then committed to a state hospital because of a mental illness, would the state be liable for the cost of his care? The answer was yes.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Mel Kammerlohr said the state would be liable until the child reaches 21 years of age "and thereafter the county of legal settlement, if ascertainable, would be liable."

Paris Airports Busy

Paris—The two fields of the Paris Airport — Le Bourget and Orly—averaged one plane arrival or departure every 4 minutes throughout 1961.

A foggy but fashionable evening. The lamps of San Francisco's Chinatown sending off little mysterious shivers of lantern-glow.

Let not the evening pass until we lift a glass to Hanno's-in-the-Alley.

This San Francisco saloon has been a journalists' haven for many an inky year. And when I heard they were on their fifth anniversary (in the alley, it used to be on the corner)—I hurried right down to find out what's new that's fit to print.

Journalists have not changed much, I find.

Only the faces and names have been changed—to protect the innocent.

There was a good deal of roistering at the bar. And cries of, "I'll pay you Monday," And, "The copy desk cut it from the bottom and lost the punchline."

It was very relaxing and nostalgic.

There were three extra bartenders. And, so help me, a cocktail waitress for the evening. Class has come to us.

The original Hanno's was known as Hanno's Corner. It serviced three newspapers within a block. Plus the Associated Press and United Press.

It never got any mink coat trade. But it had powerful support of the Press. And, being only a block from Skid Road, it was always throwing out the drop-in trade of sidewalk wine drinkers.

In fact, it has always been as un-classy as you can imagine.

Therefore, it has been a sanctuary. In Hanno's, we never ran into anybody who wasn't on the same shorts as we were. And journalists, passing through San Francisco to exotic ports, homed on the place like ducks on a rice field.

The original Hanno's was owned by "Pop" Hanno. He ran it with two firm rules: Never buy a drink for anybody. Never give credit to a newspaperman.

It employed a series of philosophical bartenders. (Most of them kept a blackjack under the bar.) They served an honest drink. And looked over each coin care-

Twice Number Of Trees Said Goal

The Nebraska Centennial Commission's tree planting committee has set a goal of doubling the number of trees grown in the state by 1967.

Committee Chairman A. James Ebel of Lincoln asked for assistance from all interested groups.

Nebraskans currently plant about three million trees each year. "We hope to be able to provide the trees and technical assistance. But we need land and manpower," Ebel said.

The committee also has discussed the possibility of local promotion of memorial forests. Ebel said "we now have a list of state land available for tree planting and are seeking sites on private land or sponsored by Nebraska communities for further planting."

Karl Loerch, State Extension Forester, was named vice chairman of the group.

Three subcommittees have also been organized. One will handle land and tree stock acquisition, another planting and care and the third will promote the tree planting concept throughout Nebraska.

Connection Between Stress, Attack Slight

Chicago (P) — Eight of the nation's top heart specialists agree that tensions, anxieties and the upheavals of modern living have little if any connection with heart attacks.

Their views, appearing in the current issue of the New Physician, journal of the Student American Medical Association, support the general feeling in the medical profession that the human body is made to withstand the strains and pressures everyone faces today.

The magazine asked the heart specialists how the human heart can be protected against stress.

Russel F. Staudacher, executive editor, said they ruled out stress as a factor and as a group "they observe the rules of their ancestors—reasonable amount of exercise, rest and sensible diet."

One of the specialists, Dr. Irvine H. Page, director of research at the Cleveland Clinic Foundation, said: "My heart needs no special protection against the stress of modern living."

"If Americans become timorous about stress, they could fall prey to a hardy and less timorous nation. It is up to us to accept life's challenges."

Teacher Sues Legion And Others Over 'Accusations'

Oroville, Calif. (P) — A high school teacher sued an American Legion Post, its Americanism committee and others for $850,000 Tuesday, alleging they accused her of teaching communist doctrine to her students.

Mrs. Virginia Franklin, a social studies teacher at Paradise High School, 20 miles north of Oroville, said in her complaint that the defendants publicly said she was brain washing her senior classes, teaching them communist doctrine, making them read salacious literature and teaching sex.

Named in the suit was the Paradise Post 259 Inc. of the American Legion, Commander Arthur Millus and Adjutant Claude W. Adams, plus 3 members of the Americanism committee, John O'Findlay, F. G. Bennett and C. L. Tomsche.

This year Mrs. Franklin was one of 32 California teachers to win an award

Shelter Marking Begins Thursday At State Capitol

Marking of all Lincoln buildings suitable for fallout shelters will begin Thursday, with the first sign going up at 8:30 a.m. at Gov. Frank Morrison's office.

The Omaha district of the Army Corps of Engineers is handling the marking, in cooperation with the Lincoln-Lancaster Civil Defense organization.

The Capitol will be one of several buildings marked with signs indicating actual shelter areas' capacities and how to reach them.

Plans have been made to stock these shelters with supplies needed for a two-week stay.

In other words, it is just as bad to restrain a naturally active, energetic person from living at his own intence pace as it is to drive a passive, bucolic individual to attempt peak accomplishment."

Dr. Paul Dudley White of Harvard University, who attended former President Eisenhower after his heart attack, believes that exercise in keeping with a persons age and general physical tone is beneficial to the heart and arteries. He said:

"The best antidote for nervous tension and intellectual intemperance is physical fatigue. We are already becoming a soft race depending on gadgets which are not likely to protect our youth from the chief hazards of tomorrow."

Overeating

Dr. Willis J. Potts, Chicago's internationally known "blue baby" heart surgeon said the chief causes of heart attacks are "overeating, lack of exercise, overweight and failure to pick the right ancestors."

Dr. George W. Calver, who as attending physician to the United States Capitol since 1928 has had hundreds of senators and representatives as his patients, gave this advice on protecting the heart:

"Get daily exercise; eat just enough food to maintain normal weight for height; break tension with good sleep at night with one half-hour rest in the afternoon, if required to be up late, and practice the hygiene of a quiet mind."

Similar views were given by Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, heart and blood vessel surgeon at Baylor University College of Medicine; Dr. E. Grey Diamond, La Jolla, Calif., president of the American College of Cardiology, and Dr. J. Scott Butterworth, New York, president of the American Heart Association.

Police Pounce At 9-Car Thief & 'Hit Paydirt'

Persistent investigation, determination and "a lot of legwork" paid off for two Lincoln police officers Tuesday night when they cleared up 9 car thefts by apprehending a 15-year-old Lincoln youth.

Officers Paul Spahn and Lyle Bigley had worked on the thefts for the past several weeks, according to Capt. Robert Sawdon, and "finally hit paydirt."

Sawdon said the key to the thefts, occurring over a 3-month period, was a home-made hunting knife found in one of the abandoned stolen cars some 3 weeks ago. He explained:

"The knife resulted in the identification and the apprehension of the boy responsible for the thefts... which he has admitted."

"The youth is being held at the Lancaster County Detention Home and will be referred to juvenile authorities Wednesday."

Sawdon noted that Spahn and Bigley would both receive formal commendations for their outstanding police work.

The Nebraska Supreme Court Tuesday submitted its budget request for 1963-65 seeking $564,417, an increase of $17,177 over its current appropriations, but a hike of $50,177 over its estimated expenditures for this biennium.

The court receives all of its appropriation from general fund money.

MOTORISTS: POLICE PLEAD 'BE CAREFUL'

"Please be careful," said Lt. Mel Dorn of the police traffic division Tuesday in a last-minute appeal to motorists, "the small-fry will be so excited on Halloween they may dart into the street from any and all directions."

"The kids may be wearing dark clothing which will make it very hard for drivers to see them, and maybe some will have on some kind of a mask which will make it hard for them to see you," Dorn continued.

"If a motorist sees a group of children on a curb, he should slow down or stop to help the kids get where they're going and back again safely."

Dorn also commented on the fact that Halloween is potentially the most dangerous night of the year for the small kids.

"Halloween is a night for the kids," Dorn said, "lets make it a fun-filled night, not one which will end in tragedy."

'Lincoln Pawn Bandit Same As Hastings'

Hastings (UPI) — Authorities said Tuesday several solid leads were being followed in the investigation of the armed robbery at the Park Motel here early Friday.

Adams County Deputy Sheriff Bob Anderson said the motel owner, Dan Boyle, had identified sketches of two men who held up the Sherman Pawn Shop in Lincoln Saturday as the same two who robbed him Friday.

Also, Anderson said, a white 1959 model sports car believed used by the bandits here has been impounded after being spotted on a Hastings street. Hastings police dusted it for fingerprints and obtained partial prints.

Colorado Check

The car bore Colorado in-transit tags, and Colorado authorities were checking on the registration.

The car was identified by a tourist as one he saw entering the motel driveway just before the holdup.

Sketches of the two men who held up the Lincoln Pawn shop were made up by police. Both Boyle and his wife said the sketches matched the description of the holdup men here.

The bandits got $200 from the motel holdup and $150 in the Lincoln robbery.

ALL SERVICEMEN WILL GET AMERICANISM INSTRUCTION

Washington (P)—Commanders of all U.S. military services were put on notice Tuesday that it is part of their job to see that their men learn about Americanism and the communist threat.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced that those subjects will be a compulsory part of the training of all servicemen, as recommended by an advisory committee of top civilians and recently retired military leaders.

McNamara generally concurred with the committee's findings, which spoke especially of a lack of awareness that education is a direct and integral duty of commanders. The study called that the major defect in past troop information and education programs.

The panel was headed by Karl Bendetsen, a former Pentagon official. The group was formed last January as an outgrowth of Senate subcommittee hearings on charges that anti-communist efforts by military men were being muzzled.

A recent report by the subcommittee did not agree with the charges.

The study by the panel which McNamara made public found "little evidence to support the view expressed in some quarters that the serviceman lacks an awareness of the communist threat." It added: "The fear-

GOP Majority In 65,650 Registered Lancaster Voters

Lancaster County has 65,650 registered voters — city and rural — eligible to vote in next Tuesday's state general election, Election Commissioner Fred Cassidy said Tuesday.

Lincoln's 59,691 registered voters break down as 33,423 Republicans, 24,161 Democrats and 2,107 non-partisan.

Rural registration of 5,959 voters includes 3,152 Republicans, 2,661 Democrats and 146 non-partisan.

The Lincoln registration of 59,691 is below the all-time peak of 62,543 in the 1960 presidential election and last May's primary election registration of 60,362.

The urban renewal referendum was a special city issue on the May ballot.

Nuclear Weapons Spending On Rise

Washington (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission disclosed Tuesday that U.S. spending on nuclear weapons jumped $194 million in the fiscal year ended June 30.

This increase was nearly 38% over the previous year, the commission said in a financial report for fiscal 1962.

"This is due in large part," the commission said, "to the resumption of full scale weapons tests."

The AEC spent $512,317,000 on "weapons development and fabrication" in fiscal 1961 and $706 million last year. Ten years ago the weapons bill was only $257.5 million.

In most other major categories the commission spent less in fiscal 1962 than in 1961. Raw material procurement continued to decline, and the cost of nuclear explosives and fuels reached a 7-year low of $689 million.

The decrease in explosives costs, while spending on weapons was going up, was attributed "principally to improvements in production and the cost of nuclear explosives and fuels are made at Savannah River, S.C.; Hanford, Wash.; Oak Ridge, Tenn.; methods." Nuclear explosives Portsmouth, Ohio, and Paducah, Ky.

Total AEC operating costs in 1962 were $2,696 billion. Of this total, 26.2% went for weapons, 25.5 for nuclear materials, 19.9 for raw materials, 16.1 for reactor development, and the rest for such things as physical research and biology and medicine.

Spending on civilian nuclear power reactors dropped to $94.3 million in 1962 from $102.3 in 1961. In only one reaction category, research on space propulsion, did costs go up.

The AEC said space rocket development costs in 1962 were $42.5 million, nearly 1.7 times the 1961 costs and more than 10 times the amount spent in 1956.

More also is being spent on atomic devices to supply spacecraft with electricity. In this category costs have risen from less than $500,000 in 1956 to $53.6 million in 1962, the AEC said.

The AEC's total costs in 1962, counting plant construction but excluding depreciation charges, were $2.889 billion. From June, 1940, through June, 1962, Congress has appropriated $29.934 billion to the atomic project.

Good Deed. Plagues Man

Philadelphia (AP) — James Settle, 42, extended a helping hand to a stranger 10 years ago. The result:

—He was jailed for about a month.

—He was tried twice on charges of robbery and aggravated assault and battery, and freed both times.

—The object of a 10-year police hunt, he was arrested in Winston-Salem, N.C., as a fugitive from justice.

—He lost his job, because of the arrest, and had to borrow money to get home.

The background: Settle was walking along a North Philadelphia street on June 14, 1952, when a speeding car dumped out David Sumbler, a victim of a beating and a robbery. Settle dragged Sumbler to the sidewalk.

Two other men rushed up, thought Settle was robbing

Sumbler. Settle, frightened, started to run and was caught by a policeman.

He was brought before Common Pleas Judge Vincent A. Carroll where Sumbler testified, "he's not the man. He helped me." Charges against Settle were dismissed by the judge.

But a mixup in the district attorney's office caused the charges against Settle to remain in the records. Police sought him 10 years, learned he was in the South, had him arrested.

After a month in jail Settle came before Common Pleas Judge Maurice W. Sporkin. Sumbler again testified "he (Settle) was the guy who helped me."

Said the judge to Settle: "you shouldnet be on trial."

Said Settle: "this is what I get for being a good samaritan."

STUDENTS IN HASSLE WITH FIREMEN

A group of Central Missouri State College students, part of a crowd of several hundred, are shown as they gathered in front of a coin laundry establishment in Warrensburg, Mo. Fire Chief C. R. Copas said the students interfered with efforts of firemen in fighting a small fire in the laundry. A brief riot followed.

De Gaulle Organizing Forces

Paris (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle flew back to Paris from his country home Tuesday to begin organizing his forces for crucial parliamentary elections Nov. 18 and 25.

De Gaulle had been at his home in Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises, 117 miles southeast of the capital, since Saturday evening. It was a characteristic gesture which showed his apparent lack of concern for the outcome of Sunday's referendum on which he had staked his future as chief of state.

Following the narrow and controversial victory which enabled him to remain in power, the hopes of De Gaulle's political opponents concentrated on a slashing defeat of the Gaullist Union for a New Republic (UNR) party.

Political sources virtually ruled out any possibility that De Gaulle himself would descend into the political arena to help fend off the possibility that the nation will elect an "ungovernable" parliament dominated by a coalition of his opponents.

This was on the basis of his 1958 statement that as "arbiter of the nation" he was unable to take direct part in the resuming conflict of political parties.

But De Gaulle's supporters hoped he would give some sort of formal support to the recently formed "Association for the 5th Republic," comprised of a broad array of factions which support his regime.

The new "association" was being compared with the defunct "French People's Rally" (RPF) which De Gaulle headed during the early postwar years.

Ole Miss Braces For New Trouble

Oxford, Miss. (AP)—The federal government—apparently fearing renewed bad trouble on the eve of Halloween—flew the deputy attorney general into the University of Mississippi Tuesday night.

With tension mounting, Nicholas Katzenbach issued stern new rules for rambunctious students: any arrested in future disturbances will be charged with contempt of federal court.

L. L. Love, dean of student affairs, passed along Katzenbach's ruling to the student body.

Worried

Signs of trouble just below the surface of campus life worried officials. So someone hurled a soft drink bottle at a car carrying James Meredith, first Negro knowingly enrolled at Ole Miss, and 5 Justice Department officials earlier Tuesday night.

Firecrackers bounced off the walls of Baxter Hall, the dormitory where the 29-year-old Negro lives, during a brief demonstration Monday night.

Flying glass hurt one of 4 deputy U.S. marshals with Meredith. He was Edward Hartley of Omaha, Neb.

The fragments showered Meredith, seated next to Hartley, and the others when the bottle crashed through a closed window of a rear car door. Meredith sat between two marshals. The bottle struck Hartley on the shoulder, glass cut his face and side.

The throwing episode came as Meredith returned from the campus cafeteria where he ate with a Justice Department attorney—but there had been no trouble outside the cafeteria as there was Tuesday night when students threw firecrackers.

Meanwhile, the University of Mississippi called off a football pep rally scheduled for Tuesday night because of Monday night's firecracker barrage.

In another development, the Student Judiciary Council announced that the university has placed 8 students on probation for their part in rioting that erupted when Meredith arrived on the campus the night of Sept. 30.

The 8 students placed on probation were among the 11 whose names the Justice Department turned over to university officials after the riot, Dean Love said in announcing the action.

The minimum probation period ends with the current semester in January.

Estes Deal Is Explained By Witness

Tyler, Tex. (UPI) — The state's key witness in the theft trial of Billie Sol Estes testified Tuesday he once refused a fertilizer mortgage contract with Estes but later agreed to it when the one-time farm tycoon gave him a $7,500 check.

T. J. Wilson, a Pecos, Tex., farmer, testified as the state's second witness. He related details of a mortgage agreement he entered into on March 2, 1961.

It is this mortgage, financed through the large New York finance firm of CIT Corp., that the state alleges Estes obtained by fraudulent means from Wilson.

Testimony opened in the trial after jury selection was completed, the indictment was read and Estes stood before Dist. Judge Otis T. Dungan and formally entered a plea of innocent. He also faces state criminal anti-trust charges and a 24-count federal indictment for fraud.

The trial was recessed at 5 p.m. CST until Wednesday, after Wilson had been on the stand for two hours. Wilson will return to the stand Wednesday.

Prosecutors, over the objection of the defense, asked Wilson if he signed the mortgage contract "as the result of misrepresentations made to you by the defendant."

"Yes, I did . . . after this consultation," Wilson replied.

A clash between prosecution and defense attorneys over two copies of the chattel mortgage agreement pointed up what appeared to be a key issue in the state's case.

The prosecution handed Wilson the state's copy of the agreement and he said he did execute that copy. But when he was handed a copy belonging to CIT Corp., Wilson said "that does not look like my signature at all."

self as a part-time governor and part-time politician."

The governor, he said, has been absent from 26% of the meetings held by the State Board of Pardons and Paroles during the past two years.

Meanwhile, the Lincoln Journal announced its editorial support of GOP gubernatorial nominee Fred Seaton.

In the Second District congressional race, Democratic nominee Thomas Bonner of Omaha charged that Republican Rep. Glenn Cunningham has waged a "no, no, no" personal crusade against the best interests of the nation.

Cunningham, he said, has voted against the Peace Corps, the Alliance for Progress, the Trade Expansion Act and "every forward-looking program of the past several years."

First District Democrats congressional nominee Clair Callan Tuesday said he has accepted no money from any special interest group and no money from outside Nebraska.

Callan challenged his opponent, Republican Rep. Ralph Beermann, to "make such a statement so that people of the First District can be fully informed regarding the 'behind the scenes' financing of his campaign."

President Supported

Beermann, addressing Republican workers in Lincoln, dealt with world affairs rather than campaign financing. He said "there is no doubt about the fact that the people of the United States and Congress are 100% behind the President with regard to the Cuban crisis."

"This is a time of world tension and international emergencies, but through the normal election process our representative republic form of government will survive."

"We are hopeful of a majority of Republicans in the House of Representatives for the good of the United States, and even for the good of President Kennedy in his last two years in office."

Aid Urged For Young Doctors

London (AP)—The Royal College of Surgeons said young British doctors should receive subsidized salaries to encourage them to enter service in the developing countries of Africa, the Middle East and Asia.

An investigating committee reported Britain is falling behind both the United States and the Soviet Union in this field.

The committee said this is true even in countries "where the medical services are based on the British pattern and where a strong bias in favor of British medicine still exists."

BIG COLLIE DOG BITES LITTLE BOY

A 5-year-old Lincoln boy was bitten by a dog while walking home from school Tuesday in the vicinity of 48th and Randolph.

Police said George Dreiger of 720 So. 51st was bitten on the middle finger of the left hand by a large collie dog, but the bite was very minor and he was not treated.

Officers contacted the dog's owner and requested that the animal be kept under observation for 10 days.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...tiny parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Boxcar Shortage Stalls Grain Shipment

Chicago (UPI) — A shortage of railroad boxcars Tuesday threatened to pile up millions of bushels of grain in the Midwest at a time when the harvest is in full swing.

Major railroads, shippers and state agricultural officials said boxcar supplies were "very tight" throughout the area and "critical" in parts of Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska.

The Nebraska Railway Commission said "serious financial losses appear inevitable" as grain swamped elevators for lack of shipping facilities.

Telegrams Sent

The agency sent telegrams to the Interstate Commerce Commission, Association of American Railroads (AAR) and the Burlington Railroad urging them to get together and rush more cars to Nebraska.

In Illinois, Agriculture Director Ralph S. Bradley called a meeting of grain dealers in Springfield Thursday to discuss the shortage. Earlier, he wired the AAR that many elevators were closed in the state "because of serious grain car shortage."

In Chicago, the AAR said "We're doing all we can to get cars to points where they are needed."

3 Crops At Once

Rail officials blamed the situation on the fact that three major crops — corn, soybeans and milo — are being harvested at the same time this year.

"Normally, the soybean season is over by this time," a Milwaukee road spokesman said, "but rain delayed the harvest, and we're being hit by all 3 at once."

The Burlington said there were shortages in Nebraska "due to a very heavy milo harvest." But an official said the road expected the situation to be cleared up "in a few days or a week at most."

However, an Illinois Central Railroad official said: "The situation is as bad as I've ever seen it. It's generally all over the country. I cannot see any relief in the near future."

Rail men said heavy movements of grain by the Commodity Credit Corp., a government agency, to export terminals at the same time as the harvest added to the situation.

Some thought expanded military shipments due to the Cuban crisis may also have been a factor, but others said such movements require different types of car.

Strikes Aggravate Condition

A recent strike of the Chicago & North Western Railway may have aggravated the shortage, one man said. He said the road removed many cars belonging to other lines from its facilities during the stoppage to avoid paying daily rental charges. When the strike ended, it urgently requested cars to handle freight piled up during the stoppage.

Another official said some shippers order more cars than they will need to be sure of getting enough when a shortage is threatened.

But much of the problem seemed to be a lack of sufficient cars where they are needed due to the rail industry's policy of pooling freight cars.

Scheele Will Consider O'Kelly Suppress Move

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele Tuesday took under advisement a motion to suppress evidence in the case of Dennis O'Kelly, charged with second degree murder in the Aug. 4 death of Barbara Eastman.

Filed by O'Kelly's attorney, Richard Vestecka, the motion contends that a written statement taken from O'Kelly, and other evidence presumed to be part of the state's case, were taken in violation of the 4th, 5th and 14th amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

During oral arguments Tuesday, Michael Lazer, co-counsel with Vestecka, maintained that reasonable grounds — and not mere suspicion — are requisite to an arrest under search and seizure laws. He contended that grounds for obtaining the warrant were improperly omitted from the complaint against O'Kelly.

Nothing Presented

Lancaster County Attorney Paul Douglas argued that whether or not the arrest was lawful, nothing was presented by the defense to show that any of the evidence obtained was in violation of the 4th, 5th and 14th amendments.

With reference to the defendant's allegation that he was not permitted to secure counsel upon request, Douglas said that O'Kelly "never asked for counsel and was never denied counsel."

He further contended that the defense was merely "speculating" in its allegation that evidence was obtained from quarters of the defendant since an affidavit has been signed showing that nothing was obtained in that search.

Douglas filed a counter-motion that the arrest was "legal and lawful," that the defendant "freely and voluntarily admitted the murder" and that the arresting officer "had reason to believe that the defendant had committed the felony."

O'Kelly is scheduled for trial next week.

Judge Scheele is expected to take action on the motion later this week.

Betrothal Told

MISS CHERYL ANN SMITH

Of interest this morning is the announcement made by Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Smith, Sr., of the engagement of their daughter, Cheryl Ann, to Dennis Craig Merry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Merry.

Miss Smith, who attended

Kansas State College during her freshman year, now is a sophomore at the University of Nebraska where Mr. Merry is a freshman.

The bride-elect is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Plan Autumn Weddings

Plans for her mid-autumn wedding are being revealed this morning by Miss Jo Ann Goebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Goebel, who has chosen Saturday, Nov. 17, as the date for her marriage to Thomas V. Kaspar, Jr., of Prague.

The ceremony will be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at St. Paul's United Church of Christ.

Mrs. David DeLong of Fairfield, Iowa, will attend Miss Goebel as matron of honor, and her bridesmaids will be Mrs. Roland Smith and Mrs. Bill Erisman. Miss Sheri Stigge will be the bridesmaid, and Miss Susan Goebel will be her sister's junior bridesmaid.

Miss Becky Valentine of Fremont will be the flower girl, and the ringbearer will be Kevin Valentine, Fremont.

Serving as best man will be Ken Carothers, and the corps of ushers will include Fred Ness, Bill Perk, Jay McIntyre, Ken Veskrna, Darrell Miller, and John Goebel, brother of the bride-elect.

Honoring the bride-to-be next Saturday will be Mrs. George Heidenrader who will be hostess at her home at an informal morning coffee. During the party, a kitchen shower will be presented to Miss Goebel.

On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. David DeLong of Fairfield, Iowa, will entertain at the home of her mother, Mrs. George Knaub, in courtesy to Miss Goebel, who will be presented a miscellaneous

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

The Country Club area was such a busy place last week, we're going to take a few more lines today to tell you about all the activities in the two Country Club neighborhoods.

Not mentioned in Saturday's column, was a party hosted by Mrs. Harold Alles last Wednesday afternoon. The gathering was the monthly get-together of a birthday club which was organized 12 years ago by 10 women who were then neighbors.

Today, the 10 are scattered over Lincoln, but they still meet each month for dessert, coffee, conversation, and sometimes a game of bridge.

The birthdays of the month are not celebrated as such at the parties, but each member has a "secret sister" who remembers her on her birthday with a gift and anonymous birthday greeting.

Members of the party

TOWN TALK

In this what-will-happen-next period nothing seems to come as much of a surprise—unless, of course, you were at the Air Port on Monday evening. Had you been there you would have seen Mrs. David Calhoun alight from the plane with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Sowles, who were returning from New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Sowles were on a combined pleasure and conference trip when they went to New York, and they couldn't have timed it better. During their stay there Lt. Calhoun received a new assignment, and it was learned that his orders, whatever or wherever they may be, did not include his bride, the former Anne Sowles.

So, Mrs. Calhoun returned to Lincoln with her parents for maybe three weeks, maybe three months—who knows?

And if, perchance, you happened to be at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado on Wednesday of last week until Monday of this week, you might have wondered if Lincoln, Neb., had been moved.

Here, there and everywhere were people from Lincoln—They were on the golf course, in the swimming pool, relaxing in the sun and, having a wonderful time.

We can't begin to name them all, but we are sure you might have seen Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Manness, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sidles of Omaha the Piedmont Park Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Pettit, the bride-elect has named her sister, Miss Janice Bardo, as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids for the 8 o'clock service will be Miss Vera Mae Schwartz and Miss Harriet Hinchley.

Warren Sundean will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Tom Neslund and Bill Bardo, brother of the bride-to-be. Richard Grabill will carry the Bible.

The bride-elect has been honored at several courtesies in recent weeks including the miscellaneous shower on Sunday afternoon when Miss Harriet Hinchley was hostess to 12 guests in Rees Hall at Union College.

group include Mrs. Victor Heckman, Mrs. Virgil Knarr, Mrs. Chick Connors, Mrs. Frank Brooks, Mrs. William Bartzatt, Mrs. Clarence Schlefer, Mrs. Arthur Duerschner, Mrs. John Roux, Mrs. Kermit Holmes, and Mrs. Alles.

For a change of pace, we'll tell you about people who were taking advantage of Teachers' Convention. Off to Chicago, Ill., on Thursday morning, were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Price and their children, Marilyn Rae, Shaun, and Terry. During their four day stay in the "Windy City," the family visited friends in the Chicago area, and also took a one day's jaunt to Crown Point, Ind., to make more "visitors' calls."

Chicagoans included on the "to visit list" were the Doublemint Twins, Jayne and Joan Boyd, and their mother, Mrs. J. Knoernizer, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Boerger, former Lincoln residents, and Mrs. Price's sister, Miss Lea Rae Smith.

Understand that Miss Sandra Sieck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ardel Sieck, and Miss Susan Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith, are receiving quite a bit of neighborhood acclaim this week.

On Sunday, the girls participated in the baton contest at Council Bluffs, sponsored by the Drum Majorettes of America. Sandra, who is six years old and a comparative newcomer to the ranks of the majorettes, won fourth place in beginners strutting.

Susan, 14, won first place in advanced solo baton twirling.

Adding glory to the awards was the fact that over 200 competed in the contest.

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

Guests in the neighborhood make news in Country Club Manor this week.

Spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. O'Donnell was the Rev. Howard P. Buxton, a former Lincoln resident, and now of Elmhurst, Ill.

The Rev. Buxton was pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church from 1939 to 1949, and had returned to Lincoln for the church's 75th anniversary. He spoke at Trinity on Sunday.

Another former Lincoln resident, Miss Martha Hellner, now of Santa Monica, Calif., was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hanson last Wednesday evening. Miss Hellner was the houseguest of Mrs. Minnie Schlichting during her stay in Lincoln.

On Thursday, Miss Hellner and Mrs. Schlichting left for Boulder, Colo., where they attended the Nebraska-Colorado game.

PEO Chapter

Mrs. W. H. DeFrene will be hostess at her home, 1644 Sioux, on Saturday to the members of Chapter DM, POE. Following the 1 o'clock luncheon, a program will be held.

Party Honored Bride-Elect

Mrs. William J. Barnicoat was a party hostess on Tuesday afternoon when she entertained in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Maria Rummel—now of Omaha, but formerly of Germany.

Miss Rummel and her fiancé, Lt. Cornelius Cosentino, had plans for a Nov. 10 wedding at Cosentino's home in New York. Shortly after the wedding Lt. Cosentino was to have left for his as-ignment in England, and it had been decided that his leave, which was hoped would coincide with the holidays, would be spent with his bride's parents in Germany, and that she would spend Christmas with his parents in New York.

But Uncle Sam changed all of that. Lt. Cosentino, of course, remained at the Lincoln Air Force Base, and as for definite wedding plans—well, everyone will have to wait and see what happens.

Anyway, Miss Rummel was honored at a prenuptial courtesy on Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Barnicoat entertained 17 guests. The bride-elect was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

Opening lead — jack of hearts.

Let's say you're declarer at three notrump and West leads the jack of hearts. You count your tricks and see you have seven of them. There's a possibility the spades are divided 3-3, in which case you would have an eighth trick, and that a club finesse might work, in which case you would have a ninth trick.

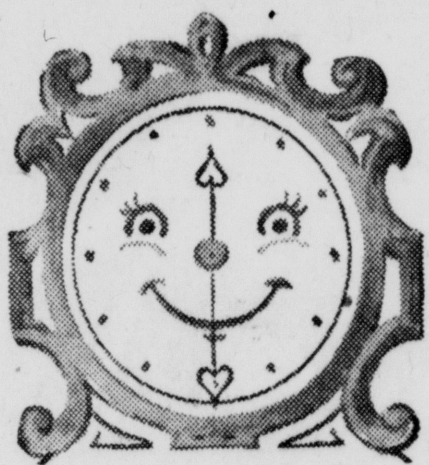

However, these possibilities, though real, are not as promising as the chance of developing two tricks in diamonds by forcing out the ace and king. Besides, if the spades are going to break and the club finesse is going to succeed, there's no hurry about testing them yet, since you can find that out later just as well as now.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am failing geometry because of my teacher. Every time I look at him my stomach does flip flops. He is tall, thin, has blue eyes and sandy hair and wears dark rimmed glasses. ## Keep Young In Maturity

Josephine Lowman

Speaking of how a mature woman can be her most attractive self, Eddie Senz, the great make-up artist said, "A quick dab of powder on the nose and a fast dabbing of lipstick are for teen-agers. A mature woman should devote time to the application and should have all grooming requisites at hand; a magnifying mirror, easy to use scissor-handled tweezers for unruly hairs, cotton swabs to soften eye make-up and erase lipstick errors, a lipstick brush and small sponges for face washing.

Here is how a professional make-up artist applies eye make-up, as told by Eddie himself. He curves eyebrows outward with the feathery strokes of an eyebrow pencil. He never draws a bold hard line because that is harsh, artificial, and aging. Eyebrow pencil strokes should be further softened by stroking with a cotton swab.

DELICATE TOUCH
To emphasize the eyes, use eye shadow. However, it must be done delicately. In applying it, a make-up expert is careful to let none of it gather in the corner of the eye where it can form an unflattering shadow. You can get rid of this with one

She wants to get married between now and Christmas but I don't want to be pressured. I have a few bills I want to pay up first. I still owe on a new car. Also I plan to expand my business, which will take some of my capital, and my mother depends on me for most of her support. Miss X says she doesn't mind helping out as she has some money saved. She also agreed to continue working after we are married. But I still think it would be unfair to marry her so soon. Don't you agree?

Married At Morning Service

At a 9:30 o'clock morning ceremony on Saturday, Oct. 27, Miss Marianne LeSarge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold LeSarge of Ludington, Mich., became the bride of Robert Hussey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hussey of Lincoln. The service was solemnized by the Rev. Father Fellman at St. Simon's Church in Ludington.

Mrs. Michael Arends of Ravenna, Mich., as the matron of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Kitty Rushkewicz of Grand Rapids, Mich., appeared in a bell-skirted frocks of satin in shades of champagne and gold. They carried arrangements of chrysanthemums in autumn tones.

Serving his brother as best man was James Hussey of Lincoln, and seating the guests were Bill Hussey of Lincoln, also a brother of the bridegroom; Ted LeSarge, brother of the bride, and Jeff Peterson, Ludington, Mich.; and Michael Arends of Ravenna, Mich.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle. The sculptured bodice of lace was designed with long sleeves and a bateau neckline highlighted by pearl and sequin embroidery, and alternating panels of the lace and tulle formed the bouffant skirt. Her illusion veil was held by a crown of pearls, and she carried a modern bouquet of white and pale gold roses. Mr. and Mrs. Hussey will make their home in Lexington, Ky.

ALL SMOKED—ALL SAUCED—ALL COOKED

Serve 'em in 20 minutes. And such ribs! No plebeian spareribs. They're not meaty enough. Instead, you get the royalty of the ribs—slim-boned Back Ribs, heavy with meat.

All smoked. For meat this good, only the best will do. So we use hickory smoke. A mellow drift of it.

All sauced. Our Barbecue Sauce never saw the inside of any bottle. We concocted it, specially, from rare ingredients, including six exotic spices.

All cooked. Meaty ribs. Authoritative sauce. We place them in a can and cook them together—slow and easy—till the flavors marry deliciously.

Nothing for you to do but put 'em in the oven for 20 minutes. (Never was a handier way to come up with handsome eating.)

A can serves 4. If you're looking for the cheapest ribs, forget ours. If you're hungry for the meatiest—come a-running!

'Super Munich' Prevented

London (P) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said Tuesday the firmness of the United States and its Western allies in the Cuban crisis prevented "a kind of super Munich."

Any wavering in Washington or other Western capitals, Macmillan told the House of Commons, "might easily have led to the collapse of the defense of the free world."

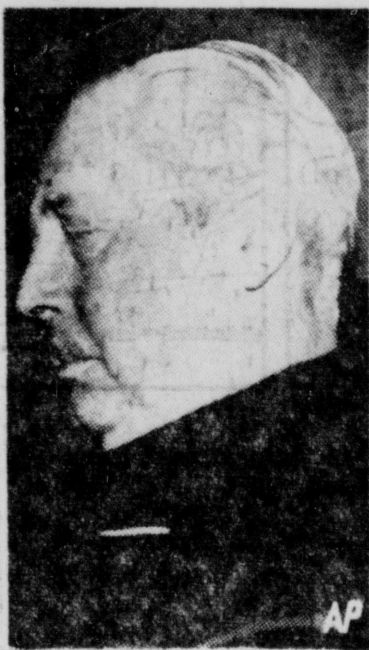

Then, putting in a call for East-West negotiations, Macmillan said:

"The world has had a shock. We have been very near the edge."

"In these various trials of strength of which this (the Cuban crisis) is the most recent, they ought not to be followed, on one side or the other, by resentment due to failure of intemperance due to success," Macmillan said.

"Let us undertake negotiations in this spirit and let us see whether we cannot, after what we have been through, find a new determination to resolve the problems from which the world is suffering."

Macmillan raised the possibility that Russia's establishment of nuclear bases in Cuba and Red China's thrust

HAROLD MACMILLAN

But he predicted that the oncoming winter along the disputed Himalaya border will slow the Chinese Communist advances and give the Indian army time to regain its losses.

Macmillan spoke to Commons after Queen Elizabeth II opened a new session of parliament with the traditional speech from the throne to the House of Lords. The speech was written by Macmillan.

The Queen stressed the desire of the British government to engage in a new effort to reach general disarmament and a suspension of nuclear weapons tests under meaningful systems of control.

Macmillan's use of the term "Super Munich" was a reference to pre-World War II negotiations at Munich between Britain's Neville Chamberlain and Adolf Hitler. Many accused Chamberlain of appeasement that opened the way for the Nazi march over Europe.

Macmillan denied charges that the United States had not adequately consulted its allies on the steps it planned for getting rid of Soviet missile bases in Cuba.

into India might have sinister ties.

"To many people . . . it must have seemed that, whether by coincidence or design, communism was on the move in a big way," Macmillan said.

He branded the Red Chinese attacks inside the Indian border as "sudden, brutal and ruthless" power politics. He pledged all out British aid—to the ringing cheers of his listeners.

Soviets Say Dark Clouds Remain

Moscow (P) — The official government newspaper Izvestia said Tuesday that despite Premier Khrushchev's peace efforts in the Cuban crisis, "dark clouds still hang over the Caribbean Sea."

"It would be premature to exclude the possibility of new provocations against Cuba," it said in a front-page editorial.

Izvestia also published a dispatch from New York saying the United States was continuing its military buildup and had only formally lifted its blockade of Cuba.

(The United States has halted its aerial surveillance of Cuba as well as its naval blockade for two days, high level informants reported in Washington.)

The Izvestia dispatch said: "The American press is trying now to create the impression that the 'next step' is up to the Russians."

"The Soviet Union, however, has already taken the necessary steps and intends to keep its promise. Consequently, the next move is up to the Americans and it must consist of the curtailment of military preparations, the lifting of the blockade of Cuba, as the President of the United States promised."

Other Soviet writers pictured the United States as nearly starting a war over Cuba which Premier Khrushchev's "calm and sagacious voice of reason" prevented.

While hammering at a theme that made Khrushchev out a peacemaker, articles in the Soviet press hardly mentioned the Soviet decision to withdraw rockets from Cuba in the face of a U.S. Navy blockade on offensive weapons.

The Tass news agency reported Khrushchev had received what it called messages of congratulations from Prime Minister Nehru of India and Prime Minister Khaled El Azem of Syria.

"Don't let self-polishing wax harm your wood floors!"

... says Henry M. Tobey, Research Director of the world's largest hardwood floor maker

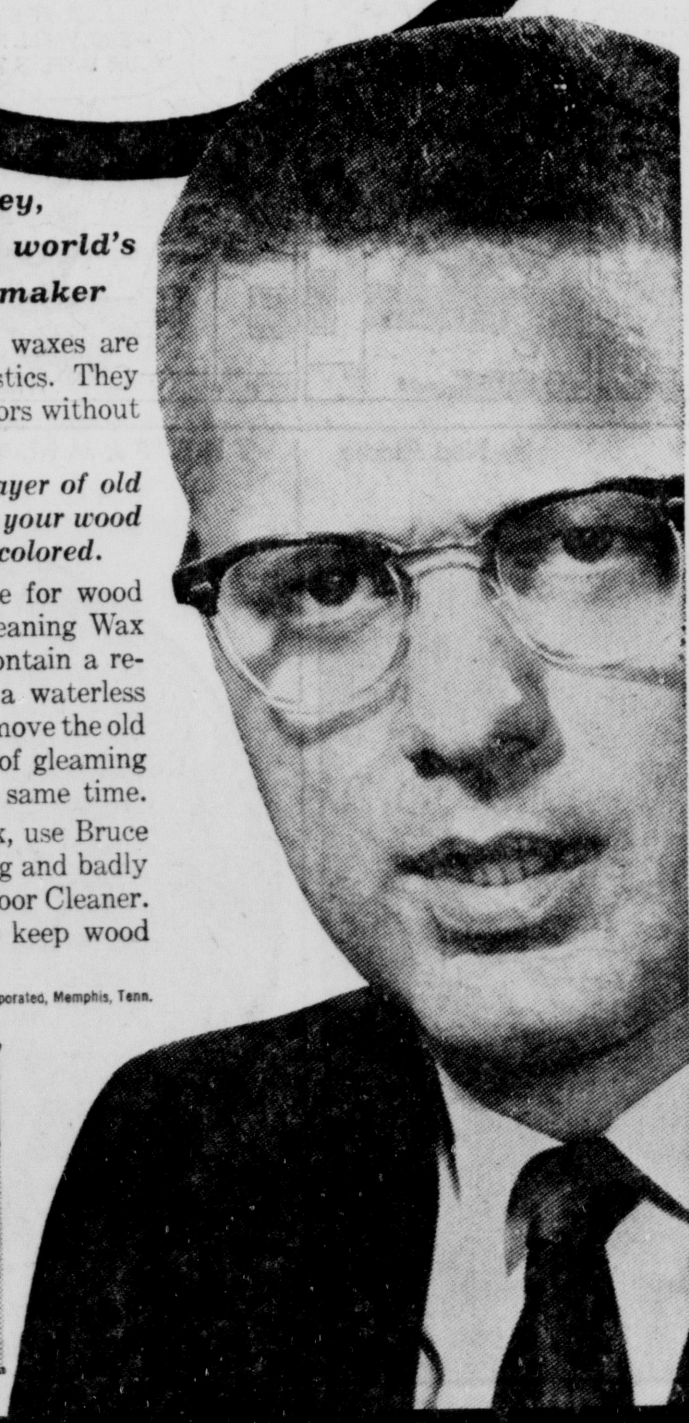

"The fact is, most self-polishing waxes are made primarily of synthetic plastics. They cannot be removed from wood floors without damaging the finish or wood."

Quite naturally, layer after layer of old self-polishing wax piles up until your wood floor becomes darkened and discolored.

What is the right way to care for wood floors? We recommend Bruce Cleaning Wax or Bruce Floor Cleaner. Both contain a removable liquid paste wax and a waterless wood floor cleaner. They clean; remove the old wax; and leave a rich, new coat of gleaming paste wax protection—all at the same time.

If you like a heavy coat of wax, use Bruce Cleaning Wax. For lighter waxing and badly soiled floors, you'll want Bruce Floor Cleaner. It's the easiest and best way to keep wood floors clean and bright."

KANSAS' PROBATION LIFTED

POINT BLANK

Sox Worried

Colorado leftovers . . . Sox Walseth, Colorado basketball coach whose 1962-63 club will attempt to defend the Big 8 title won last year, is doing a lot of worrying this fall. Main reason: Ken Charlton's legs.

During a pre-practice visit last week, Sox told me, "We could be okay again, but it all depends on Charlton—and he's having trouble. He had a knee operation last spring, but it hasn't come out right. He has tried to favor the knee in practice and now has injured an ankle."

About that time Charlton hobbled in and told Sox he'd miss practice again while getting treatment for his ankle. "C'mon up to the gym and watch when you get done," Sox said. "You can hold my clipboard."

As the big Buff—key man in any repeat hopes—departed, Sox said: "We need that guy."

Davis Future OK

Credit CU coach Bud Davis—the former alumni secretary—with doing a fine job with his undermanned Buffs. He has created an entertaining offense, but he simply doesn't have any depth.

Husker coach Bob Devaney praised Davis' work and cast an envious eye toward the CU offense. "I really like that pro offense Bud has put in," Bob remarked. "That's the type of entertaining offense I'd really like to use, but I don't know enough about it."

Coloradans close to the Boulder pulse report Davis won't be scrapped, regardless of his record. The feeling is that Bud is doing the school a favor during trying times. One CU official reported Davis may become athletic director when Harry Carlson retires in the near future.

The Buff booster seconded the feeling around the Big 8 that Davis is an interim coach—agreeing to fill in while the heat is on with the assurance that the school will find a spot for him when the time comes to lure a new coach. Whatever the deal at Boulder, Davis has lived up to his end—the Buffs as expected aren't very good, but they're respectable.

Association Talk

Denver didn't have a banner year at the gate in the American Association, but the football Broncos are selling like crazy. Last year Bronco crowds averaged 11,000—this year they're averaging over 27,000.

Incidentally, the baseball insiders in Denver insist the LA Dodgers are going to dump Omaha, but not until a new sponsor is located for Nebraska's only entry in pro ball.

Speaking of Nebraska and pro ball, the Lincoln Chiefs still have hopes of gaining a spot in the minor league family—if the long-awaited realignment ever comes off, and if a major league club can be found to ease the financial burden.

The annual minor league convention—where all the important strings are pulled—is slated for the last of November at Rochester, N.Y. Chances are Lincoln will be represented.

Nothing definite and little promise of great success—but there's hope and as long as a possibility exists for Lincoln to return to baseball, it's worth a try.

Gagne Retains Grapple Title Against Krusher

The incomparable Vern Gagne is still the world's grapple champion—thanks to a bit of Krusher Kowalski's foul play that backfired at Pershing Auditorium Tuesday night.

With the match standing at a fall apiece, Krusher tried to sneak his pet knee—Gagne swears Kowalski has something under his knee pad—blast by Referee Tom Novak after Vern had a flying dropkick misfire.

He skulled Gagne, but Novak spotted the trick and pulled Kowalski off. While Krusher argued with Novak, Gagne regained his feet and his eye—directing a smashing dropkick to Krusher's jaw and then applying the pin in 4:47 to retain his belt.

Kowalski used his knee to win the first fall in 17:15, but Gagne—using the slick maneuvers in which he excels—quickly retaliated. Vern applied a brain-searing chicken wing in 3:08 to even the match.

Wildest action of the night came in a one-fall tag team match which pitted Jack Pesek and Thor Hagen against Danny Plechas and Pierre Robert.

Pesek, who opened the card with an easy victory over Black Jack Dillon—the abdominal stretch did the trick in 11:21—took considerable punishment, but he and Hagen were awarded a disqualification victory in 14:35.

In the semifinal event strutting Parisian Robert took two unpopular falls from Hagen. He used a body slam in 12:47 to win the first before Hagen fired a reverse leg scramble at him to cop the second in 1:46. Robert wound it up in 6:22.

The next Pershing Auditorium pro grapple will be Wednesday, Nov. 14. Promoter Pesek announced.

CHAMBERLAIN HITS 10,000TH POINT IN NBA

San Francisco (P)—Wilt Chamberlain scored the 10,000th point of his National Basketball Association career Tuesday night as he led the San Francisco Warriors to a 125-106 victory over the New York Knickerbockers.

It was the 4th victory of the season against one defeat for San Francisco. The Warriors trail Western Division leading St. Louis by a half game. New York is 2-5.

Chamberlain got 59 points to lead the game's scorers and run his NBA total to 10,033. He is starting his 4th season as a pro.

The 7-foot-1 former Kansas ace scored 31 points in the first half as the Warriors posted a 63-55 halftime edge.

Claridge No. 8 In Offense

Nebraska's Dennis Claridge ranks 8th in total offense among the nation's major college football stars, according to figures released Tuesday by the NCAA service bureau.

Claridge has gained 873 yards in 147 carries. Iowa State's Dave Hoppmann is 10th with 834 yards on 172 plays.

Eldon Forte, Brigham Young tailback leads for the 5th straight week with 1,506 yards on 223 plays. Forte also leads in rushing with 837 yards in 140 carries.

Kansas' Gale Sayers is 3rd in rushing and Johnny Roland of Missouri is 5th.

Dallas Tops AFL Defense

Dallas, Tex. (P)—Dallas has the top record of the American Football League and it got there with a rousing defense.

The Texans, who beat Houston 31-7 Sunday and pulled into first place in the Western Division, took over the lead in total defense while so doing. They have allowed 200.1 yards per game in 7 games.

Denver, which led in defense last week, was beaten 45-38 by Buffalo and fell to second. The Broncos have permitted 290.5 yards per outing.

Denver stayed on top in total offense, bringing their total to 3,088 yards—338 yards per game. Houston is second with 2,615 for a 330.7 average.

Orange Bowl Official Will See NU-MU Game

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

It's official now—the Nebraska-Missouri football game Saturday has definite Orange Bowl implications.

Norris Anderson, former Lincoln scribe now publicity director for the Orange Bowl, reported Tuesday that a representative of the Miami Bowl's selection committee will be on hand Saturday to watch the unbeaten Huskers and Tigers collide.

Meanwhile in Lincoln, Coach Bob Devaney was busy preparing his club for the crucial contest and ticket manager Jim Pittenger was in the process of selling general admission tickets.

More than 2,000 bleacher seats have been sold since Monday, Pittenger reported, and "about 2,000" remain.

A crowd of more than 37,000 is anticipated for the game, which sees the Tigers established as early 3-point favorites.

Devaney reported he expected the Cornhuskers to be in the best physical condition of the year.

"It's a good thing we're in better shape, too," Bob said. "We'll definitely be playing our toughest game of the year because Missouri is the best team we've met."

Informed that Nebraska had been ranked No. 10 in the latest United Press International poll, Devaney grinned and said:

"I just hope we keep improving our status with the UPI and all the other polls."

Hot Battle

A mid-season scrap is going on among centers Ron Michka, Lyle Sittler and Jim Baffico.

Devaney said it is a "close fight" and indicated all would see action.

"Michka did a good job for us at Colorado," Bob said. "I thought he played his best game. But we still play to alternate our centers."

Short Scrimmage

The Huskers engaged in a short defensive scrimmage Tuesday afternoon as the NU Scout squad ran Missouri plays.

Two Missourians

Sidelined For Nebraska Contest

Columbia, Mo. (P)—The condition of the Missouri football squad was generally improved Tuesday as the Tigers continued preparing for their Big 8 Conference showdown with Nebraska at Lincoln Saturday.

But coach Dan Devine said two or 3 regulars will not be on the travel roster.

Vince Tobin, sophomore right halfback, injured in last Saturday's Iowa State game, and Jerry Crumpler, 3rd unit tackle, hurt in practice before the Iowa State game, will not be able to make the trip. There is some doubt about Bill Tobin, regular starting offensive right halfback, who played only two downs against Iowa State and has not shown improvement this week.

Bill Thornton and Dennis Stuewe did not participate.

Heavy Coverage

Husker publicist John Bentley is swamped with requests for press box space as interest grows in the game between the two Big 8 leaders.

In addition to the large CBS television crew, including announcer Mel Allen, and the usual Nebraska delegation of reporters and broadcasters, Bentley has received requests for space from Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota and other points.

Similar Records

Both Missouri and Nebraska have played opposition of somewhat similar caliber this fall.

NCAA Restores Rights To Two

. . . PERIOD EXPIRES

New York (P)—The council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association terminated Tuesday night the probationary periods of the University of Kansas and East Tennessee State College, restoring both institutions to full rights and privileges of the association.

Kansas had been placed on probation two years ago for two violations of NCAA rules, involving basketball star Wilt Chamberlain and football player Bert Coan. East Tennessee State, of Johnson City, Tenn., had been placed on one year's probation for violations of basketball tryout and recruiting rules.

Both probations were terminated on schedule with the full terms having expired and a review of both cases by the NCAA Committee on Infractions having determined that no extension was in order.

Excessive Entertainment

Kansas had been barred for the first year of the two-year period from post-season football games and the NCAA football television programs for violations that included excessive entertainment provided Coan and an automobile given to Chamberlain, 7-foot-1 former all-America basketball star who now holds all scoring records in the professional National Basketball Association.

The case also involved the recruiting of 3 student athletes from other institutions without proper notification to the athletic directors of the other schools.

East Tennessee State's probationary period of one year had provided no further penalties concerning post-season competition or television programs.

Further Announcements

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said the 18-member council—now in the second day of its annual 3-day fall meeting here—still had under consideration additional reports from the infractions committee. It was indicated that further infractions announcements could be expected today.

In other action, the council endorsed 3 proposals to be presented to the annual NCAA convention in Los Angeles in January.

These included a revision in one of the by-law requirements concerning post-season basketball games; A proposal for additional representation from college division (small college) schools on rules and tournament committees for newly created NCAA small college championships, and a proposal for rules committee continuing secretaries in swimming, track and field, wrestling and baseball.

Regarding the requirements concerning post-season basketball games, Byers said the recommended revision stemmed from an NCAA rule that provided that NCAA certification would be given only to qualified all-star games in which the practice and game periods occurred during vacation periods.

Miss One Day

Byers said the revision would provide that if an all-star game is scheduled on a Saturday the day before may be used for practice. This means a basketball player may miss one day of class time to prepare for an all-star game.

One of the games involved is a new post-season basketball contest planned by the National Association of Basketball Coaches next spring at Lexington, Ky., a week after the NCAA championships in Louisville.

The provision for additional representation from small schools on rules and tournament committees resulted, Byers said, from college division championships the NCAA will inaugurate in track and field, wrestling, golf and tennis in 1963.

Interest In Rules

The provision for continuing secretaries on the rules committee in swimming, track and field, wrestling and baseball is the result of the council's interest in improving the administration of playing rules in college sports.

Huskers Named No. 10 By UPI

. . . MISSOURI IS 14TH

New York (UPI)—Northwestern, the Big 10 Conference leader and winner of 5 straight games, replaced Texas as the United Press International's top-ranked major college football team Tuesday.

Alabama, riding a 6-game winning streak, moved up to second place, Southern California (5-0) took over 3rd and Mississippi (5-0) advanced to 4th as Texas dropped to 5th. The Longhorns, front-runners for the past 3 weeks, saw their hopes for the national championship jolted when Rice tied them, 14-14, last Saturday night.

Arkansas (5-1) and Nebraska (6-0) are the newcomers in the top 10 this week, replacing Wisconsin and Auburn. The UPI board of coaches rated Louisiana State 6th, Michigan State 7th, Washington 8th, Arkansas 9th and Nebraska 10th.

Northwestern, with passing whiz Tom Myers continuing to lead the way in its 35-6 victory over Notre Dame last Saturday, received 19 first place votes from the 35 coaches.

Northwestern picked up 320 points out of a possible 350 distributed on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first to 10th places. Alabama had 305, Southern California 203, Mississippi 198 and Texas 197.

Arkansas made the jump from 12th place to 9th by scoring its 5th victory in 6 games over Hardin-Simmons, 49-7. Nebraska topped Colorado, 31-6, to advance a notch to 10th.

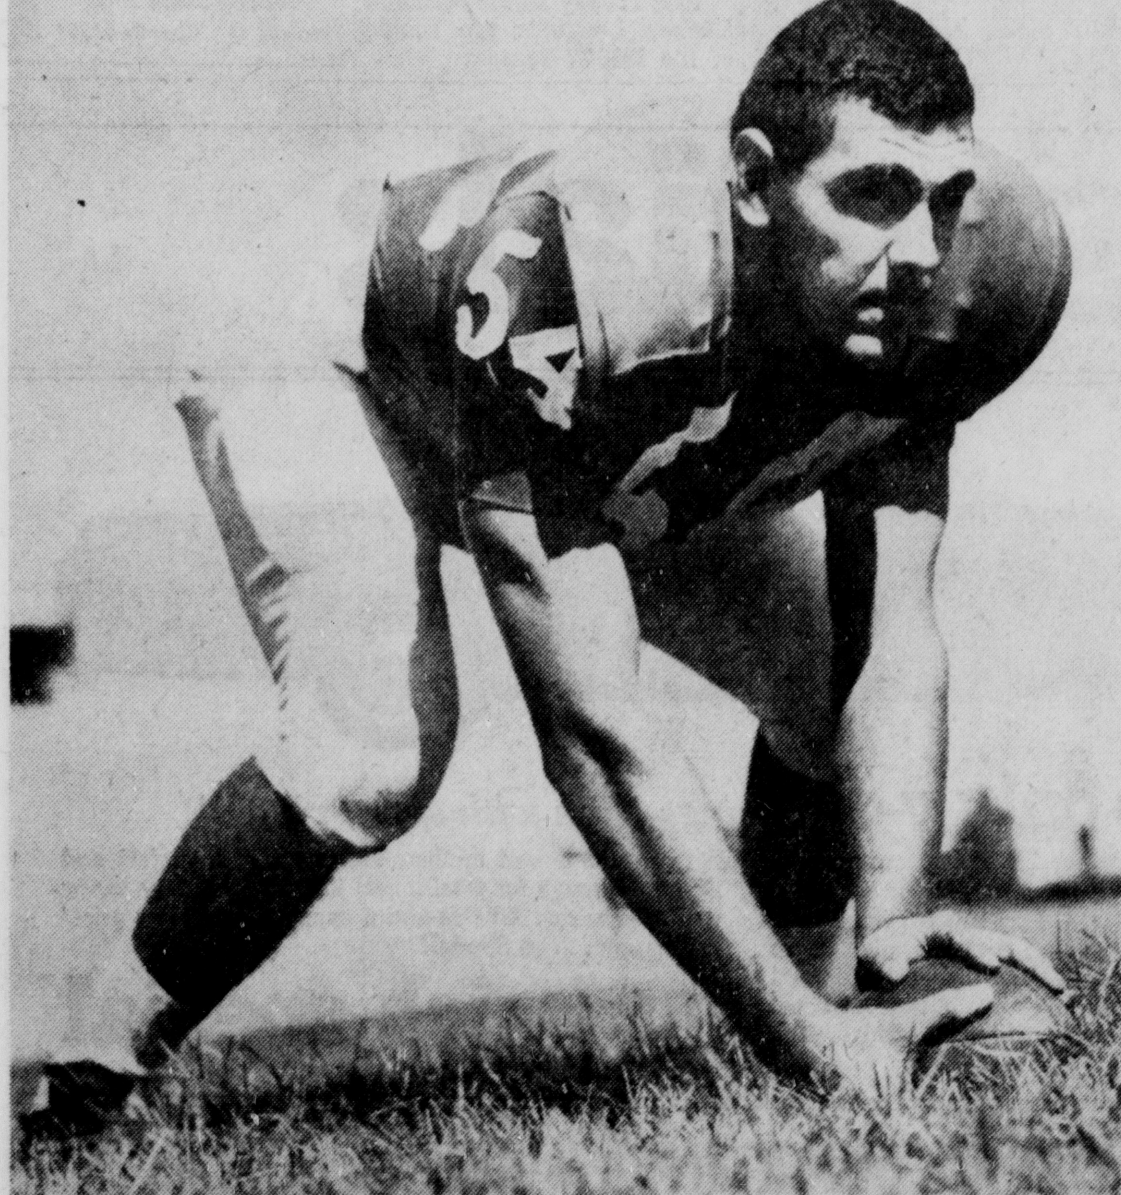

Auburn, 10th a week ago slipped to 11th to head the second 10. Ohio State, Wisconsin, Missouri, Purdue, Oregon, Duke, Georgia Tech, Minnesota and Penn State followed. Miami (Fla.) and Army were the only other teams that received votes this week.

In this week's top games, 3rd-ranked Southern California plays 8th-ranked Washington, 4th-ranked Mississippi meets 6th-ranked L.S.U. and 10th-ranked Nebraska engages Missouri, rated No. 14.

Stith Tabbed Week's Best

... LINEMEN STAND OUT

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

The fellows up front stood out like gangbusters in high school football last week.

Prep-linemen were outstanding throughout the state.

Southeast's Carel Stith, the biggest Capital City regular, gets the Sunday Journal and Star nod for Player of the Week.

Stith's selection over other fine frontliners was difficult—even over other Southeast lineman who blanked Fairbury's offense.

CAREL STITH

The 226-pound Stith, a two-year letterman, has shown great improvement this year and now is Southeast's top defensive man.

The 6-foot, 3-inch senior is used to close athletic combat. He is an outstanding wrestler, annexing the state heavyweight championship last winter.

Other outstanding linemen who will receive Player of the Week recognition are:

Dick Luebke, Grand Island—His linebacking against Hastings halted the Tiger running game on numerous occasions.

Morrie Bantner, Omaha Benson—Lincoln High found this 185-pound guard a bearcat on defense.

Tom Smith, Hastings—Rugged end was receiver on two passes which set up second half Hastings scores in close win over Grand Island. Second pass was tugged away from GI defender.

Randy Armstrong, Waverly—Senior end caught a 54-yard pass for touchdown then ran 9 yards for another.

Kenny Mierkatz, Polk—Busy lineman registered 20 tackles and blocked St. Edward punt.

Emit Sobata, Schuyler—Strong 195-pound tackle put clamps on York's running game with usually outstanding defensive game.

Outstanding backs were: Al Hottovy, East Butler—Five TDs spree against Henderson sent junior back's point total to 146 for season. He has averaged 11.9 yards with an overall gain of 1,259.

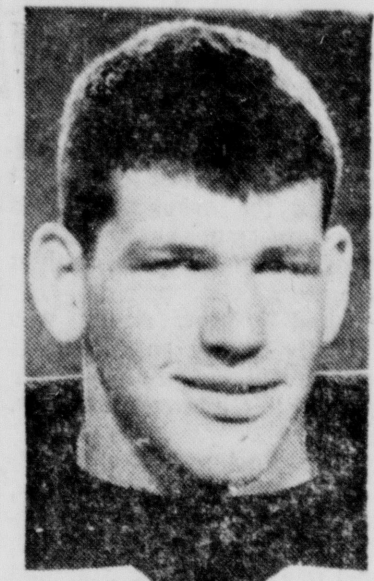

Ron Siefkes, Filley—Accounted for all 35 points—either by running, passing, or kicking—in upset of Lewiston.

Bob Shaw Signs With Milwaukee

Milwaukee (P) — Veteran right-hander Bob Shaw, who posted a 2.80 earned run average in his National League debut after several years in the American League, returned here signed 1963 contract to the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday.

The 29-year old Shaw had a 15-9 record until stricken with arm trouble during the 1962 campaign. He failed to win a game after Aug. 17.

Shaw is the first member of the Braves to agree to terms for next season.

Return Of Injured Players Helps Titans' Title Chances

New York (P) — The New York Titans think they are coming back to take a shot at the American Football League's Eastern Division title because a lot of them are coming back from the hospital.

"I still think we have a chance for the division title if we get all our boys back real soon," head coach Clyde (Bud) Turner said Tuesday. "Of course, we had better not lose any more ball games and we'll need some help from some other clubs to knock off Boston and Houston. But I think that a 9-5 record can at least tie for the title."

The Titans, who broke a 4-game losing streak Sunday with a solid 23-3 upset of the San Diego Chargers, have a 3-5 mark and take on the winless Oakland Raiders at the Polo Grounds this Sunday.

Turner has been without quarterback Lee Grosscup; all-league fullback Bill Mathis; and Bill Atkins, a defensive back and the AFL's No. 1 punter, most of the season. He's also been riddled in his defensive secondary with 4 backs on the hospital list. Also he has not been able to field his best offensive line.

"We had to practice with only 24 men last week in getting ready for the Chargers, and at one time this year, we had 13 men injured. But I

Parseghian Finds Price For Fame Is Bothersome

Chicago (P)—The price of being thrust into the national limelight as the No. 1 football team—constant attention by sports writers and sportscasters—was of growing concern Tuesday to Northwestern coach Ara Parseghian.

"I know the fellows have to do their jobs," Parseghian told the Chicago football writers. "But ever since we defeated Ohio State there has been a flow of newspapermen, radio and television men, and magazine writers to our practices, and telephones that ring continuously. It is getting difficult to get any work done."

"For instance, take Tom Myers (the nation's top major collegiate passer) — He can't sit down to eat without someone there asking him questions. They are there bombing him during practices, in the dressing room—all over the place. And me—I'm getting calls from fellows all over the area wanting to cut radio tapes over the phone."

"We don't mind publicity, but we have work to do, and maybe it's time to lay off of us a little. We've been throwing the doors open on Monday and Tuesday. But we are holding Wednesday drills behind closed doors. Thursday and Friday are important practice days, but even then we get magazine writers coming in and taking over."

Demo Tells Ike To Quit Stump

... AVOID ANY DISUNITY

Washington (P) — A Democratic spokesman proposed Tuesday that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower take himself out of the political campaign to avoid any appearance of disunity during the Cuban crisis.

Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, criticized a statement in which he said Eisenhower had supported President Kennedy on Cuba but had added — in Hartke's words — "that there is room for criticism of the position taken by the President."

Hartke told a news conference further that in other statements the former Republican president had left "the clear implication that this crisis is no different from any other one."

Misunderstood
"These statements could easily be misunderstood," Hartke said, adding that Eisenhower "has a deeper responsibility than almost any one else not to be making statements that can be misinterpreted."

"No one should leave the

Sutton Okays School Bond

Sutton (P) — Sutton voters Tuesday approved a $645,000 bond issue for a new junior-senior high school. The vote was 680 for the bonds and 408 against, a majority of 62%.

The new school is designed to relieve crowded conditions and to eliminate the use of rented facilities. Enrollment at Sutton has jumped in grades 7 through 12 from 195 in 1955 to 249 at present.

impression that we are not united at home in our quest for world peace," Hartke said.

The Indiana Democrat said he was speaking only for himself and his campaign committee, and not for the White House. He said he had not consulted the White House about any of his statements.

In Gettysburg, Pa., a spokesman said Eisenhower was not available for comment.

Unity Call
Eisenhower called in a speech at Gettysburg, Pa. last Tuesday night for American unity in support of the President in the Cuban crisis.

He added that once the crisis had passed into history "it will be entirely proper then to examine and analyze and criticize decisions and actions taken."

"So far as Cuba and Soviet Russia are concerned in the weeks ahead," Eisenhower continued, "we cannot be partisan, but a united America need not and should not degenerate into a conformist, a silent America."

Hartke said in response to questions he was not classifying Eisenhower among some of the Republican leaders the Indiana senator said "should do more than just give lip service to the President."

Nothing Domestic
But he complained that in news reports of some of Eisenhower's speeches, "I didn't see one word about domestic issues."

Asked if he was saying Eisenhower ought to get out of the campaign, Hartke replied "I am saying he should give serious consideration to cancelling further public appearances."

The Democratic committee chairman read a statement in which he criticized the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee for suggesting that Kennedy was motivated by political considerations in his timing of the announcement of the arms quarantine against Cuba.

"It was the march of events and not the demands of political consideration which guided him in his decision," Hartke said. He added:

"This is further demonstrated by the fact that the President has removed himself and all of the top spokesmen of his administration from the political campaign. You might think that the opposing party would do likewise, but they have not."

BACK ON THE JOB

Bill Sawicky, hired to wash windows at a Phoenix, Ariz., jewelry store Tuesday, went to work on time and began his duties. Suddenly, a bullet whizzed by his ear. Store owner Stanley J. Janca had been asleep in the rear of the building, guarding against a recent wave of jewel thefts. He heard the noise at the window, thought it was a burglar, grabbed his rifle and fired, the bullet crashing through the class. Undaunted, Sawicky completed his work.

Aviation Gas Tax Committee Studies State Fuel Revenue

Two members of the Legislative Council Aviation Gas Tax Study Committee met Tuesday with representatives of the State Aeronautics Department to discuss the department's overall operations and revenue it receives from aviation fuel taxes.

One of the issues discussed was United Air Lines' request for a reduction in the tax it pays on fuel for its jet aircraft.

United representatives, in previous appearances before the committee, have stated they use a great deal more fuel for jet aircraft than is used for standard engine planes, and that the tax is working a hardship on the firm.

The committee questioned Tuesday whether commercial carriers were not, in effect, providing a majority of the revenue for the department's airport improvement programs for general aviation.

Scope Questioned
The department's scope of operations also was questioned, with particular emphasis placed on whether its traffic stimulation program for commercial carriers was a valid responsibility of a government agency, and whether the state should have become involved in litigation over Frontier Airline Service.

State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt stated that in his opinion both activities were valid operations of the department and necessary to the development of aviation and the state as a whole.

Asked where the funds came from to support the state's litigation on Frontier, Aeronautics Department Engineer Walter Kreuscher said it necessitated "curtailment" of some of the department's airport development programs.

Sen. William Moulton of Omaha, committee chairman, suggested the department "might be able to put more money into development of airports if (its activities) weren't spread over so much ground."

Don't Think All Fat Folks Gluttons

Chicago (P) — Don't assume all fat people are gluttons with no will power. Many of them eat less and exercise more than trim individuals.

A group of researchers conducting pioneer studies reported Tuesday there has been a "complete turnaround in thinking and research" on the causes of corpulence.

They said animal experiments and recent human studies indicate that metabolic differences — the manner in which the body disposes of food calories after they are eaten — can cause some persons to gain but others to lose weight on the same amount of food consumption and energy output.

Eliminate Guilt
"Physicians could use this evidence to eliminate the guilt complex some overweight children have because their acquaintances assume they are gluttons without strong will," said one of the researchers, Dr. Felix P. Heald of Washington, D.C.

Heald, director of adolescent medicine at Children's Hospital of the District of Columbia, and 3 other researchers told of the latest findings on obesity in a panel discussion and interview at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

The general assumption has been that an individual's weight is determined by the amount of food intake and activity — if more calories are consumed than burned up in the living process, the excess calories turn into fat.

Still Holds
That basic premise still holds, the researchers said, but rather large differences exist among some individuals on the rate that food calories are burned up.

One of the panelists, Dr. Albert L. Stunkard, chairman of the department of psychiatry, University of Pennsylvania, said a comparison of 50 overweight girls with other girls of normal weight showed the overweight girls ate less and exercised as much as the normal weight group.

"And I know adults who literally have to eat like birds to prevent a gain in their weight," chimed in Dr. Heald.

Various Ways
Jean Mayer, Ph. D., D. Sc., associate professor of nutrition, Harvard Medical School, and one of the panelists, said animal studies have shown that obesity can be produced in the laboratory in a variety of ways.

Some mice apparently have a genetic disposition to gain more weight than others. Other animals are compelled to eat more if their brains have been damaged by surgical instruments or drugs. Animals who take their daily caloric intake at one feeding gain more than others who spread the same number of calories throughout the day.

What percentage of overweight persons become that way because of metabolic differences, and would it be dangerous for them to go on a semi-starvation diet to lose weight?

Dr. Heald said studies designed to answer those questions are slated for the future.

William Meduna, Colon, Is Dead

Wahoo (P) — William Meduna, 72, of Colon, died at a Wahoo hospital Tuesday. He was president of the Production Credit Corporation of South Omaha and of the Saunders County Cattle Feeders Association.

Funeral services will be Friday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Joseph's Church in Colon.

Depositors Question Overdraft Claim

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Gresham — The vice president of the Gresham State Bank, Harry I. Hylton, said the bank's $468,000 shortage occurred primarily because of overdrafts.

The man on the street questions this.

"They let me know when I was overdrawn. Sometimes they'd tell me the very same day," declared Ken Tonniges, an automotive dealer here for 9 years.

His father, Richard Tonniges, agreed.

"They wasted little time in telling me if a check arrived short of funds. They always told me within the week," related the elder Tonniges, who drove a Co-Op oil wagon for years.

Wayne Burgess, an automotive mechanic, said, "I always made up the difference as soon as they told me and they told me promptly."

A farmer's wife, Mrs. Ben Gonnerman, said much the same thing, "We'd sell a hog to cover an overdraft when it would appear, or maybe we'd sell some corn."

But, she emphasized that all of her family's overdrafts were covered within a week of notice.

Mrs. Pauline Schultz, manager of the local drugstore, called the closed bank "quite efficient" and "always quite accurate."

None of the interviewed parties suspected the Gresham bank officials of foul play.

The bank's president, David Yung, said, "It was my understanding that persons with overdrawn accounts were being informed immediately."

Hylton had said this wasn't the case, especially with the area farmers. He said the misappropriation went back 31 years.

CB&Q To Build New Diesel Shop

The Burlington Railroad was issued a building permit for a new diesel repair shop, estimated at $780,200, Tuesday by the city building inspector.

The 150-by-431-foot structure of steel frame and metal siding will be located in the Burlington yards near 7th and West O, according to the permit.
